Cuban Police Foil Invasion Of Nicaragua

Big Arms Cache Seized; Three Americans Held

HAVANA (AP)—A raid by Cuban police on the swank Havana home of a former U.S. Navy pilot frustrated a planned air and sea invasion of Nicaragua, official sources said Tuesday night.

The raid was on the Biltmore suburb home of Capt. Paul Hughes, former Atlanta, Ga., pilot and recently advisor in the Cuban rebel air force.

Arms Cache Seized

It led to the seizure of a large arms cache and the detention of two other Americans, a British journalist, several Cubans, and nearly 200 would-be members of an expeditionary force against the regime of Nicaraguan President Luis Somoza, official sources reported.

The British subject was identified as Carl John Wilson, a free-lance journalist who has been in Havana several weeks.

The two Americans detained with Hughes were identified as Efren R. Pichardo, an attorney, of Miami, Fla., and Joseph Bardor, Los Angeles, Calif., who claimed he is a motion picture producer.

Invasion Plan Uncovered

All three were visiting at the Hughes' home when police raiders struck Monday night.

Official Cuban sources said a series of raids uncovered not only a considerable quantity of arms but also a complete plan for the invasion of Nicaragua by air and sea.

More than a dozen of the 200 volunteers were held while the remainder were released after warnings against engaging in hostile activities against other nations from inside Cuba.

No charges have been placed against Hughes or any of the others.

SENTENCED — Lillian Freiberg, 26, appears in federal court in New York for sentencing in the slaying of her sweetheart, former Air Force pilot John Conwell, of Hornell, N. Y. She was sentenced to three years in prison. Government prosecutors said Miss Freiberg shot Conwell last November in a quarrel over marriage plans called off by the airman. The prosecution also said the defendant then wounded herself to make it appear that Conwell, 28, used the gun. The girl appeared in court in a wheelchair. (AP Photofax)

Ike Signs Tax Extender, Bill Hiking Debt Lid

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Eisenhower beat a midnight deadline by signing into law late Tuesday a bill to continue high Korean war tax rates on corporations and such consumer items as liquor, cigarets, beer and new cars.

He also signed into law another top-priority fiscal measure raising the legal ceiling on the national debt to a record peacetime level of 295 billion dollars to enable the Treasury to scrape through the lean tax collection period ahead.

Without the bill, the debt limit would have dropped to 283 billion dollars at midnight—or about two billion dollars below the amount actually owed by the government.

The President had requested both measures and signed both without comment.

The tax bill was rushed to final congressional passage only Monday to prevent an automatic drop in tax rates that would have cost the already hard - pressed Treasury about three billion dollars in revenue.

The current high rates were put into effect during the Korean War to help finance the fighting and have been extended since on a year-to-year basis.

Without Eisenhower's signature, corporation tax rates would have fallen from 52 to 47 per cent at midnight. There also would have been similar drops in a variety of federal sales taxes, known technically as excise levies.

As finally approved, it called for an end to the present 10 per cent federal tax on local telephone service on June 30, 1960. It also would halve the 10 per cent federal levy on airline, train and long-distance bus tickets on the same date.

However, tax experts in both the House and Senate emphasized that Congress would take another look at the situation next year and might reverse itself then.

The Senate had voted to end the travel tax this year and to erase all federal communications taxes, including those on telegrams, next year. These provisions were sharply modified, however, by a joint conference committee which drafted the final bill.

Senate Passes $1,211,270,000 Military Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Tuesday passed 89-3 a bill authorizing $1,211,270,000 in military construction projects and approving the administration's new master plan for air defense.

The bulky measure, debated in an on-and-off fashion all afternoon, was revised twice to fit in main points of the new defense plan. It now goes back to the House for action on numerous Senate amendments.

The three votes against passage were cast by Sens. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) and Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa).

Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss), floor manager for the bill, along with supporters and critics hit hard at what they called "wasteful duplication in weapons systems."

Attached to the bill were directives to the Pentagon heads, including the individual career military chiefs, to report back to Congress both short-term and long-range plans.

The bill took into account the biggest new changes in military strategy—immediate cutbacks of 17 million dollars in the Army's Nike-Hercules missiles and of 29 million dollars in the similar Bomarc program of the Air Force. These two are the nation's main defense weapons against enemy bombers.

Strauss Gives Up Cabinet Post

'Sad' President Praises Aide Senate Barred

WASHINGTON (AP)—After 7½ months on the job, Lewis L. Strauss stepped out Tuesday from the Cabinet post the Senate refused to let him keep—secretary of commerce.

The White House announced his formal resignation, submitted a week ago, in making public an exchange of correspondence between Strauss and President Eisenhower.

The President's letter of acceptance, dated last Saturday, praised Strauss highly and expressed Eisenhower's "personal sadness" at his leaving.

Rare Episode

Thus, the curtain came down on a rare episode of American history—a Cabinet nominee refused Senate confirmation. Strauss was only the eighth such rejection in the nation's history and the first in 34 years.

The Senate, in the early hours of June 19, voted 49-46 against confirming Strauss, after months of bitter controversy.

In his June 23 letter to the President, Strauss noted that the recess appointment under which he had been serving since last Nov. 13 does not expire until Congress adjourns.

But in view of the Senate's action, he said, "it seems to me I should resign formally now in order that the functioning of the Department of Commerce may continue unimpaired."

No Indication Of Successor

Asking for a few days to take care of unfinished business and to remove his personal effects, Strauss said this could be accomplished by June 30. The White House said the resignation would be effective at the close of business that day.

Eisenhower wrote Strauss that he could stay on longer if he wanted but said Strauss' decision to get out now "is in keeping with your unfailing practice of placing public interest above your own."

There was no indication whom Eisenhower will pick to succeed Strauss. So far there has been little speculation about it.

Holiday Weekend Traffic Death Toll Of 350 Predicted

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated that 350 persons will die in traffic accidents during the Independence Day holiday.

The council figured 45 million automobiles will be on the nation's highways, travelling nine billion miles during the 54-hour holiday commencing at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday and ending at midnight Sunday.

In addition to fatalities, the council estimated another 13,000 holiday observers will suffer disabling injuries in highway mishaps.

The estimated holiday traffic toll compares with an estimated nonholiday weekend toll of 260 deaths and 10,000 injuries, the council said.

Adenauer Flies To West Berlin For Election

BERLIN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, ignoring angry Communist outcries, flew to West Berlin in a U.S. Air Force transport plane Tuesday for the West German presidential election.

He also ignored grumbling in his Christian Democratic party and the possibility some members might bolt his candidate on the secret ballot. He predicted the election of the party candidate, Heinrich Luebke, his agriculture minister.

East German Communists kept blasting away at the holding of the elections Wednesday on what they claim is East German territory. But they made no move to block any of the 1,038 Electoral College delegates from reaching this isolated city, 110 miles inside the Iron Curtain. They seemed to have dropped their former tough talk of clamping on a temporary blockade.

"I look forward calmly to tomorrow's election," Adenauer told a caucus of Christian Democratic electors here.

Nobody stood up to challenge the Chancellor, 83, and the caucus approved Luebke as the party candidate without debate. The gavel came down after a session of only 30 minutes.

But some electors left the caucus grumbling at the abruptness of the meeting.

Some sources said they saw a chance for Carlo Schmid, the popular Socialist candidate, or even for Max Becker, the Free Democrats' choice, as a compromise.

Luebke, 64, has been Adenauer's agriculture minister for six years. Schmid, 62, is a professor and assistant minority leader in the West German lower house. Becker, 71, is a lawyer.

The Christian Democrats are three short of an absolute majority of 520, which they need to win on the first or second ballots, if they register all their strength. If there is a third ballot the candidate with the most votes wins.

Counter Suit Filed By Gov. Long's Wife

Charges He Threatened To Kill Her

COVINGTON, La. (AP)—Two new kinds of trouble hit Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana Tuesday—his wife began divorce action and federal agents opened his public relations adviser's bank box.

Long's 51-year-old wife Blanche, charging he once threatened to kill her in a rage, filed a counter suit Monday night to the governor's petition for separation, first step toward divorce under Louisiana law. Her suit asked for $2,500 alimony monthly.

Long snorted at her claim.

"She has as much money as I do. She's 12 years younger, she can work."

Federal agents probing the governor's income took a look into the safety deposit box of Cora Russell Schley of Alexandria, La.

She didn't say how much of the governor's money they found, "But it wasn't much."

Both developments came just a few hours after psychiatrists attending the tempest-tossed 63-year-old governor said he was suffering from a nervous breakdown and ruled out any mental disorders.

Long spent 16 days in a Galveston, Tex., psychiatric clinic and only last Friday gained his freedom from a state mental hospital at Mandeville, La. His wife signed papers committing him to both institutions.

Mrs. Long contended the governor, whom she married in 1926, was guilty of "multiple acts of cruelty" and claimed he tried to kill her on May 28. She said she would furnish necessary details when the case comes to trial. A Family Court judge set next Monday for a hearing on Mrs. Long's motion for a preliminary injunction to keep Long from disposing of community property. Date for hearing the divorce action itself has not been set.

Long's attorneys filed a similar suit Tuesday in Winnfield, the same type of court action the governor took last week.

Mrs. Schley, wife of a Missouri Pacific Railroad engineer, said she believed federal agents are checking "everybody who might have had some of his (Long's) money."

Mrs. Schley has been Long's public relations adviser since 1952.

Two Brothers Electrocuted By Basement TV

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two small brothers were electrocuted Tuesday while watching television in the cool, damp basement of their suburban home.

Anne Arundel County police said the bodies of David Joseph Doyle, 9, and Michael Edward Doyle, 7, were found by their mother.

Mrs. Vita Doyle and her husband, Chief Petty Officer Warren Doyle, had returned to their Country Club Estates home from a trip to the commissary at Ft. Meade, Md., where Doyle is stationed.

Lt. Leo Kinsey of the county police said the couple had moved the boys' beds into the cool basement as the mercury soared to 100 degrees here for the third straight day.

Kinsey said the boys apparently had been playing with the steel TV antenna. The floor was damp, Kinsey said.

Ben-Gurion Wins Preliminary Test

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli Communists lost on a motion of no confidence Tuesday night in Premier David Ben-Gurion's government. The issue was the sale of arms by Israel to West Germany.

The crucial test for the government was still to come from the non-Communist opposition to Ben-Gurion.

The vote in the Knesset was 57-5, with 37 abstentions, against the Communist move.

Cuban Air Chief Quits, Charging Red Infiltration

HAVANA (AP)—Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz charged Tuesday there is Communist infiltration in the Cuban armed forces and resigned as chief of the air force. The armed forces are commanded by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's brother Raul.

Diaz sent his resignation to President Manuel Urrutia. He had resumed his post Monday after a month's absence. He was reported suffering from typhoid fever.

Maj. Juan Almeida commanded the air force in Diaz's absence.

The resignation was the first by a government official blaming Communist activity in Fidel Castro's government. Castro has repeatedly denied such charges.

In a letter to Urrutia, Diaz said that on returning to his office Monday he found Almeida had been made absolute chief of the air force.

Diaz said Almeida told him the order came from Fidel Castro.

Questioned earlier about rumors of Diaz's leaving his post, Castro's press secretary said reports that Diaz had been dismissed are not true.

What happened, he said, was that Almeida continues as inspector general of the air force, a job that is superior to that of air force commander. This was the first mention that Almeida had assumed the post as inspector general. All previous official comments regarding his appointment called him acting chief of the air force in absence of Diaz Lanz.

Voices Hope For Friendly Coexistence

Russian Official Meets Today With President, Herter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov arrived by plane Tuesday for talks with President Eisenhower and administration leaders during a 2½-day visit.

In remarks at the airport, he called for "a return to the policy of friendly coexistence" between the Soviet Union and the United States in order to maintain world peace.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, leading a welcoming U.S. delegation in 97-degree heat, expressed hope Kozlov's talks with Eisenhower and others "will be useful in discussing and pointing up some of the problems" now existing with the Soviet Union.

Herter First On Calling List

Kozlov, accompanied by a delegation of 30 Soviet dignitaries and newsmen, went by police-escorted limousine directly to the Soviet Embassy. He will begin a round of formal calls Wednesday morning.

Kozlov is due to talk at the White House with Eisenhower at 10:15 a.m., after a one-hour discussion earlier with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

The Soviet party flew here from Philadelphia.

Earlier Kozlov fraternized with shipworkers at Camden, N.J., as he ignored steaming temperatures while inspecting construction of the world's first atomic-powered merchant vessel.

Kozlov, his gray hair curled wet with sweat, walked around the huge New York Shipbuilding Corp. yards, his sharp eyes missing nothing.

Red Lensmen Miss Nothing

About 11 Soviet newsmen and photographers didn't miss anything either. They shot everything they saw. One Soviet lensman calmly took pictures in the general direction of blueprints spread out over shipyard equipment but nobody who saw him seemed to care.

Kozlov, meantime, climbed up iron stairways, flimsy wooden ladders, walked along iron gangways and inspected the nuclear ship Savannah which will be launched July 31. He got a good look at a full-size model of the nuclear power plant and asked question after question.

Edward L. Teale, New York Ship president, answered frankly. It seemed to the eavesdropping newsmen that only a trained atomic scientist could have gleaned more.

Crashing Jet Kills 21, Injures 100 On Okinawa

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—The toll mounted Tuesday to 21 dead and 100 injured after an abandoned U.S. jet fighter plummeted into a primary school and spread flaming ruin over a nearby residential area.

The disaster, one of the worst since the United States occupied this big island south of Japan after World War II, struck at Ishikawa, 18 miles north of Naha.

Officials were unable to say how many of the 1,300 pupils in class or playing in the yard died when the plane ripped into one corner of the school building, bounced over a second classroom and landed in a rice field about 1,000 feet away.

Authorities said that at least 60 of the less seriously injured were school children. They were struck by flying glass or other debris.

Children inside the demolished school building were saved because one of the students saw the jet falling and cried "Air raid!" police said.

The children fell to the floor and covered their faces as all school children were taught to do when Japan and the United States fought for this strategic island late in World War II.

Debris flew in all directions, setting fire to 30 homes in the vicinity of the school.

None of the dead or injured was an American, U.S. Air Force officials said. At least nine of the dead were identified as adults.

Administration Bids Good Riddance To Fiscal 1959

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration bade farewell and good riddance Tuesday to the 1959 fiscal year which produced history's biggest peacetime budget deficit.

Officials were ready to welcome fiscal 1960 with hope that the new economic boom will swell tax revenues and permit the first budget surplus in three years.

The exact size of the old year's deficit won't be announced for about three weeks. Officials said it will run close to the official January forecast of $12,900,000,000.

Fiscal 1959 brought the fourth deficit in six years for the Eisenhower administration.

For fiscal 1960, President Eisenhower predicted a slim surplus of 70 million dollars. The outlook has changed since. The revised estimate to be made public in September will show some major adjustments.

The administration now expects taxes to yield about 600 million dollars more than the $77,100,000,000 predicted in January. Some other observers see revenues rising at least 1½ billion dollars above the January figure.

Spending also will rise above the $77,030,000,000 which Eisenhower asked Congress to authorize. The administration says that, for one thing, the cost of interest on the national debt will jump 500 million dollars to $8,600,000,000.

For the 1959 fiscal year, the official estimates still are that spending will total nearly 81 billion and revenues 68 billion.

The largest previous peacetime budget deficit was $4,425,000,000 in fiscal 1936. The biggest wartime deficit was $57,420,000,000 in fiscal 1943.

Heat Wave Lets Up In Northeast Area

By The Associated Press

Cool air advancing out of the Midwest brought some relief Tuesday to the sweltering Northeast, but hot, humid weather hugged the Ohio Valley, the mid-Atlantic states and the South.

The Weather Bureau reported temperature drops of as much as 20 degrees in the Norhteast from Monday's 90 plus readings.

South of the cool air mass temperatures soared into the upper 90s. Southern Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia reported readings of 100 degrees.

At least nine deaths Monday and Tuesday in Maryland were attributed to the heat.

Elderly Blind Man Battles And Kills Savage Fox That Had Attacked Wife

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — "It was a terrible ordeal."

That is how Howard Eddy, 70, and blind, described his battle with a savage fox that had attacked his ailing, 79-year-old wife.

The animal gripped Mrs. Eddy's left arm in its jaws for many minutes, balking a desperate struggle of both husband and wife to loosen its hold. The couple beat, choked, stabbed and shot the animal during the struggle.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddy live on a farm near Newport, 12 miles east of here. Monday afternoon, Mrs. Eddy saw a movement in the weeds by her mail box and discovered a gray fox with a chicken in its mouth. She picked up a rock and started beating the animal over the head.

The fox dropped the chicken and snapped at Mrs. Eddy's left arm, gripping it tightly. Mrs. Eddy screamed.

Eddy, who is totally blind, was inside their home. He heard his wife scream and hurried to her with his heavy seasoned elm cane.

When he reached her side, Eddy groped for the animal and found its throat.

"I choked with both hands," he said. "I choked as hard as I could but it held on. When that didn't do any good, I got my pocket knife and stabbed it but I couldn't push it through the skin.

"All I could think about was freeing her. I stuck my hand into the fox's mouth."

Finally, in desperation, he punched the blade of the small knife into the fox's mouth and the animal let go. But only for an instant, just long enough for it to grab the fingers of Mrs. Eddy's left hand.

Eddy grabbed the cane again and started beating the fox over the head. The cane split, but the stunned animal fell to the ground.

Freed, Mrs. Eddy ran into the house and got a .32 caliber revolver. She returned and fired several shots into it, and then Eddy took the gun himself and pushed it against the spot he thought covered the heart, and put the finishing touches on the fox.

Mrs. Eddy went to a physician for treatment of a badly lacerated arm.

Some sources said they saw a chance for Carlo Schmid, the popular Socialist candidate, or even for Max Becker, the Free Democrats' choice, as a compromise.

Luebke, 64, has been Adenauer's agriculture minister for six years. Schmid, 62, is a professor and assistant minority leader in the West German lower house. Becker, 71, is a lawyer.

The Christian Democrats are three short of an absolute majority of 520, which they need to win on the first or second ballots, if they register all their strength. If there is a third ballot the candidate with the most votes wins.

Counter Suit Filed By Gov. Long's Wife

Charges He Threatened To Kill Her

COVINGTON, La. (AP)—Two new kinds of trouble hit Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana Tuesday—his wife began divorce action and federal agents opened his public relations adviser's bank box.

Long's 51-year-old wife Blanche, charging he once threatened to kill her in a rage, filed a counter suit Monday night to the governor's petition for separation, first step toward divorce under Louisiana law. Her suit asked for $2,500 alimony monthly.

Long snorted at her claim.

"She has as much money as I do. She's 12 years younger, she can work."

Federal agents probing the governor's income took a look into the safety deposit box of Cora Russell Schley of Alexandria, La.

She didn't say how much of the governor's money they found, "But it wasn't much."

Both developments came just a few hours after psychiatrists attending the tempest-tossed 63-year-old governor said he was suffering from a nervous breakdown and ruled out any mental disorders.

Long spent 16 days in a Galveston, Tex., psychiatric clinic and only last Friday gained his freedom from a state mental hospital at Mandeville, La. His wife signed papers committing him to both institutions.

Mrs. Long contended the governor, whom she married in 1926, was guilty of "multiple acts of cruelty" and claimed he tried to kill her on May 28. She said she would furnish necessary details when the case comes to trial. A Family Court judge set next Monday for a hearing on Mrs. Long's motion for a preliminary injunction to keep Long from disposing of community property. Date for hearing the divorce action itself has not been set.

Long's attorneys filed a similar suit Tuesday in Winnfield, the same type of court action the governor took last week.

Mrs. Schley, wife of a Missouri Pacific Railroad engineer, said she believed federal agents are checking "everybody who might have had some of his (Long's) money."

Mrs. Schley has been Long's public relations adviser since 1952.

Two Brothers Electrocuted By Basement TV

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two small brothers were electrocuted Tuesday while watching television in the cool, damp basement of their suburban home.

Anne Arundel County police said the bodies of David Joseph Doyle, 9, and Michael Edward Doyle, 7, were found by their mother.

Mrs. Vita Doyle and her husband, Chief Petty Officer Warren Doyle, had returned to their Country Club Estates home from a trip to the commissary at Ft. Meade, Md., where Doyle is stationed.

Lt. Leo Kinsey of the county police said the couple had moved the boys' beds into the cool basement as the mercury soared to 100 degrees here for the third straight day.

Kinsey said the boys apparently had been playing with the steel TV antenna. The floor was damp, Kinsey said.

Ben-Gurion Wins Preliminary Test

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli Communists lost on a motion of no confidence Tuesday night in Premier David Ben-Gurion's government. The issue was the sale of arms by Israel to West Germany.

The crucial test for the government was still to come from the non-Communist opposition to Ben-Gurion.

The vote in the Knesset was 57-5, with 37 abstentions, against the Communist move.

Cuban Air Chief Quits, Charging Red Infiltration

HAVANA (AP)—Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz charged Tuesday there is Communist infiltration in the Cuban armed forces and resigned as chief of the air force. The armed forces are commanded by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's brother Raul.

Diaz sent his resignation to President Manuel Urrutia. He had resumed his post Monday after a month's absence. He was reported suffering from typhoid fever.

Maj. Juan Almeida commanded the air force in Diaz's absence.

The resignation was the first by a government official blaming Communist activity in Fidel Castro's government. Castro has repeatedly denied such charges.

In a letter to Urrutia, Diaz said that on returning to his office Monday he found Almeida had been made absolute chief of the air force.

Diaz said Almeida told him the order came from Fidel Castro.

Questioned earlier about rumors of Diaz's leaving his post, Castro's press secretary said reports that Diaz had been dismissed are not true.

What happened, he said, was that Almeida continues as inspector general of the air force, a job that is superior to that of air force commander. This was the first mention that Almeida had assumed the post as inspector general. All previous official comments regarding his appointment called him acting chief of the air force in absence of Diaz Lanz.

Voices Hope For Friendly Coexistence

Russian Official Meets Today With President, Herter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov arrived by plane Tuesday for talks with President Eisenhower and administration leaders during a 2½-day visit.

In remarks at the airport, he called for "a return to the policy of friendly coexistence" between the Soviet Union and the United States in order to maintain world peace.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, leading a welcoming U.S. delegation in 97-degree heat, expressed hope Kozlov's talks with Eisenhower and others "will be useful in discussing and pointing up some of the problems" now existing with the Soviet Union.

Herter First On Calling List

Kozlov, accompanied by a delegation of 30 Soviet dignitaries and newsmen, went by police-escorted limousine directly to the Soviet Embassy. He will begin a round of formal calls Wednesday morning.

Kozlov is due to talk at the White House with Eisenhower at 10:15 a.m., after a one-hour discussion earlier with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

The Soviet party flew here from Philadelphia.

Earlier Kozlov fraternized with shipworkers at Camden, N.J., as he ignored steaming temperatures while inspecting construction of the world's first atomic-powered merchant vessel.

Kozlov, his gray hair curled wet with sweat, walked around the huge New York Shipbuilding Corp. yards, his sharp eyes missing nothing.

Red Lensmen Miss Nothing

About 11 Soviet newsmen and photographers didn't miss anything either. They shot everything they saw. One Soviet lensman calmly took pictures in the general direction of blueprints spread out over shipyard equipment but nobody who saw him seemed to care.

Kozlov, meantime, climbed up iron stairways, flimsy wooden ladders, walked along iron gangways and inspected the nuclear ship Savannah which will be launched July 31. He got a good look at a full-size model of the nuclear power plant and asked question after question.

Edward L. Teale, New York Ship president, answered frankly. It seemed to the eavesdropping newsmen that only a trained atomic scientist could have gleaned more.

Crashing Jet Kills 21, Injures 100 On Okinawa

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—The toll mounted Tuesday to 21 dead and 100 injured after an abandoned U.S. jet fighter plummeted into a primary school and spread flaming ruin over a nearby residential area.

The disaster, one of the worst since the United States occupied this big island south of Japan after World War II, struck at Ishikawa, 18 miles north of Naha.

Officials were unable to say how many of the 1,300 pupils in class or playing in the yard died when the plane ripped into one corner of the school building, bounced over a second classroom and landed in a rice field about 1,000 feet away.

Authorities said that at least 60 of the less seriously injured were school children. They were struck by flying glass or other debris.

Children inside the demolished school building were saved because one of the students saw the jet falling and cried "Air raid!" police said.

The children fell to the floor and covered their faces as all school children were taught to do when Japan and the United States fought for this strategic island late in World War II.

Debris flew in all directions, setting fire to 30 homes in the vicinity of the school.

None of the dead or injured was an American, U.S. Air Force officials said. At least nine of the dead were identified as adults.

Administration Bids Good Riddance To Fiscal 1959

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration bade farewell and good riddance Tuesday to the 1959 fiscal year which produced history's biggest peacetime budget deficit.

Officials were ready to welcome fiscal 1960 with hope that the new economic boom will swell tax revenues and permit the first budget surplus in three years.

The exact size of the old year's deficit won't be announced for about three weeks. Officials said it will run close to the official January forecast of $12,900,000,000.

Fiscal 1959 brought the fourth deficit in six years for the Eisenhower administration.

For fiscal 1960, President Eisenhower predicted a slim surplus of 70 million dollars. The outlook has changed since. The revised estimate to be made public in September will show some major adjustments.

The administration now expects taxes to yield about 600 million dollars more than the $77,100,000,000 predicted in January. Some other observers see revenues rising at least 1½ billion dollars above the January figure.

Spending also will rise above the $77,030,000,000 which Eisenhower asked Congress to authorize. The administration says that, for one thing, the cost of interest on the national debt will jump 500 million dollars to $8,600,000,000.

For the 1959 fiscal year, the official estimates still are that spending will total nearly 81 billion and revenues 68 billion.

The largest previous peacetime budget deficit was $4,425,000,000 in fiscal 1936. The biggest wartime deficit was $57,420,000,000 in fiscal 1943.

Heat Wave Lets Up In Northeast Area

By The Associated Press

Cool air advancing out of the Midwest brought some relief Tuesday to the sweltering Northeast, but hot, humid weather hugged the Ohio Valley, the mid-Atlantic states and the South.

The Weather Bureau reported temperature drops of as much as 20 degrees in the Northeast from Monday's 90 plus readings.

South of the cool air mass temperatures soared into the upper 90s. Southern Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia reported readings of 100 degrees.

At least nine deaths Monday and Tuesday in Maryland were attributed to the heat.

Elderly Blind Man Battles And Kills Savage Fox That Had Attacked Wife

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — "It was a terrible ordeal."

That is how Howard Eddy, 70, and blind, described his battle with a savage fox that had attacked his ailing, 79-year-old wife.

The animal gripped Mrs. Eddy's left arm in its jaws for many minutes, balking a desperate struggle of both husband and wife to loosen its hold. The couple beat, choked, stabbed and shot the animal during the struggle.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddy live on a farm near Newport, 12 miles east of here. Monday afternoon, Mrs. Eddy saw a movement in the weeds by her mail box and discovered a gray fox with a chicken in its mouth. She picked up a rock and started beating the animal over the head.

The fox dropped the chicken and snapped at Mrs. Eddy's left arm, gripping it tightly. Mrs. Eddy screamed.

When he reached her side, Eddy groped for the animal and found its throat.

"I choked with both hands," he said. "I choked as hard as I could but it held on. When that didn't do any good, I got my pocket knife and stabbed it but I couldn't push it through the skin.

"All I could think about was freeing her. I stuck my hand into the fox's mouth."

Finally, in desperation, he punched the blade of the small knife into the fox's mouth and the animal let go. But only for an instant, just long enough for it to grab the fingers of Mrs. Eddy's left hand.

Eddy grabbed the cane again and started beating the fox over the head. The cane split, but the stunned animal fell to the ground.

Freed, Mrs. Eddy ran into the house and got a .32 caliber revolver. She returned and fired several shots into it, and then Eddy took the gun himself and pushed it against the spot he thought covered the heart, and put the finishing touches on the fox.

Mrs. Eddy went to a physician for treatment of a badly lacerated arm.

NEA Will Flood Congress With Education Aid Pleas

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The National Education Assn. voted overwhelmingly Tuesday to flood Congress with telegrams urging support for a massive program of federal aid to education.

Only a few "no" votes were heard when the motion was put to the association's annual convention here.

Harold Bell, a delegate from Virginia, put the case for the opponents of federal aid. "To me it seems incongruous to send $1 to Washington just to get 60 cents back," he said.

A resolution pledging a grass-roots campaign at home and a barrage of messages to Washington was presented by Miss Corma Mowrey of Charleston, W. Va., a former president of the NEA.

The resolution urged support of the Murray-Metcalf bill, now pending in Congress, which would give outright federal grants to the states. The grants—based on $25 for each school age child—could be used for school construction or teacher salaries, or both.

State affiliates seconded the motion and pledged all-out support.

Louisiana, South Carolina, North Dakota and Maryland were not heard from.

The Virginia Teachers Assn., the Negro affiliate in that state, supported the resolution. The white group, the Virginia Education Assn., did not record its vote as a group.

Behind the scenes, the fight to get the NEA to take a stronger stand against segregated public schools continued. It appears now that those who want a strong statement will carry the fight to the convention floor Friday.

Whites Guilty In Negro Attack

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Six white youths were found guilty Tuesday of maliciously wounding two Negro boys with shotgun blasts last April.

The two Negroes, hospitalized and later released, were among six fired on. Four other Negroes were struck by pellets but not seriously injured.

Trial of three other white youths charged in the same incident was postponed until the July term of Hustings Court.

Each of the six whites was found guilty on separate charges of maliciously wounding Samuel Clark Jr., 15, and Carlton J. Washington, 16. The whites entered guilty pleas to the charges.

Conviction of malicious wounding carries a term of one to 20 years.

At the request of defense counsel, Judge W. Moscoe Huntley deferred sentencing pending receipt of probation reports. Parole and probation officers said it would take about two months to complete the reports.

Found guilty were Raymond G. Lumpkin, 19; Thomas A. Parkinson, 20; Robert J. Kenney, 17; Virgil T. Hancock III, 16; Cecil P. Deane, 17, and Robert L. Carlton, 20.

Potomac Pact Referendum Is Assured

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Southern Marylanders fighting a new Potomac River Compact with Virginia made sure Tuesday it won't take effect before November, 1960.

At that time Maryland voters will decide whether it is to take effect at all.

The public referendum was assured when opponents of the pact from Charles and St. Marys counties — with an assist from attorney Hyman Pressman, their Baltimore representative — obtained a total of 12,968 signatures on a petition to place the new treaty on the 1960 general election ballot.

They had filed 8,178 of the required 10,000 signatures with the secretary of state on May 29 and went well over the top with 4,790 Tuesday.

The latest batch will be screened by the attorney general as to legal sufficiency before the bill is officially ruled subject to referendum. But this seems to be only a technicality, since he certified the entire previous list.

Robert Barbour, former Charles County state's attorney and counsel for the watermen's association which spearheaded the referendum move, restated some of the reasons.

"We're not opposed at all to a compact with Virginia," he said, "but we want a better one. We feel any such agreement (for regulation of fishing in the Potomac) should include the lower Chesapeake Bay."

He said it is also felt that Maryland is giving away authority over the river which it owns without a proper test in the Supreme Court of whether Maryland's abrogation of its old compact was legal.

The new compact calls for a joint fisheries agency of three members each from Maryland and Virginia to administer fishing laws in the Potomac. The group would have broad regulatory powers.

Queen Visits Home For Aged

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Queen Elizabeth drew huge crowds at a suburban shopping center Tuesday and gave residents of a Salvation Army home for the aged an unforgettable day.

While the Queen was visiting a hospital, and a home for the blind and the aged, Prince Philip was off advocating a physical fitness program before Canadian doctors. He was named president of the Canadian Medical Assn. first layman ever to hold that post.

Philip quipped that it was a great chance for a patient to tell the doctors what to do. Actually he is to be represented in the job by a deputy, Dr. Elmer Kirk Lyon of Leamington, Ont.

Everywhere people turned out in the street to see the Queen pass on the final day of her two-day visit to Toronto. The weather was cool and overcast.

Thousands jammed the roadside all around the 40-acre Golden Mile Shopping Plaza. Some had waited since 8:30 a.m. for a noontime appearance. They got only a brief glimpse of the Queen.

At a huge supermarket, closed in expectation of her visit, and with employes and their relatives posing with shopping carts, the Queen only stepped inside the door for a few moments. She exchanged words with store officials and did not attempt to go through the glistening market as had been expected.

At the Isabelle and Arthur Meighan Lodge, where 163 elderly residents waited in the gray and gold lounge, things were different.

The women in the lounge and the men on a balcony above stood up, except for a few in wheel chairs, waved flags and applauded the smiling Queen as she walked into the room.

Soviets Order Industrial Retooling Plan Shortcuts

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist party's Central Committee has been told the task of installing modern equipment in Soviet industry is too big to be managed in the current seven-year plan.

Accordingly, the Central Committee has ordered some shortcuts and will concentrate in fields where quick results may be expected in the race with the United States for world industrial leadership.

The committee has just concluded a five-day meeting to size up Soviet industry at which Premier Nikita Khrushchev was the main speaker. The results filled more than three pages Tuesday in the two leading Soviet newspapers, Pravda, the Communist party organ; and the government paper Izvestia.

Averki B. Aristov, the party expert on industrial efficiency, frankly told the committee of some of the deficiencies of Soviet industry. He said retooling was too gigantic a task for accomplishment under the seven-year plan which ends in 1965.

The master plan adopted calls for:

1. Use of automatic machinery replacing human labor. Experts were given six months to come up with a plan for broad application of automation.

2. Despite the youth of most Soviet industry, compared with the West, the committee was told that large branches of Soviet industry are trying to produce with machinery long overdue for the scrap pile.

3. Planners were given another deadline—six months—to work out priorities in technical education so that surpluses of specialists in some fields and shortages in others may be eliminated.

85 Flee To Safety In Baltimore Fire

BALTIMORE (AP) — A five-alarm fire burned through a three-story brick building housing laundry, cleaning and dyeing firms Tuesday.

About 85 employes fled the building to safety. The fire broke out about 3 p. m. and was out an hour later. Twenty-seven pieces of equipment fought the fire.

Large clouds of smoke were visible in the downtown area as firemen worked in 100-degree heat.

The building was occupied by Holland Cleaners and Launderers, Colonial Cleaning, Dyeing and Laundry Co. and the Holland Fur Cleaning Co. There was no damage estimate.

She exchanged words with store officials and did not attempt to go through the glistening market as had been expected.

At the Isabelle and Arthur Meighan Lodge, where 163 elderly residents waited in the gray and gold lounge, things were different.

The women in the lounge and the men on a balcony above stood up, except for a few in wheel chairs, waved flags and applauded the smiling Queen as she walked into the room.

PITY THE POOR POSTMAN—As temperatures soared in the sweltering 90s, Wheeling, W. Va., postman Albert Yendrall suffered with the rest of the city as he made his daily rounds. Soviets Order Industrial Retooling Plan Shortcuts

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist party's Central Committee has been told the task of installing modern equipment in Soviet industry is too big to be managed in the current seven-year plan.

Accordingly, the Central Committee has ordered some shortcuts and will concentrate in fields where quick results may be expected in the race with the United States for world industrial leadership.

The committee has just concluded a five-day meeting to size up Soviet industry at which Premier Nikita Khrushchev was the main speaker. The results filled more than three pages Tuesday in the two leading Soviet newspapers, Pravda, the Communist party organ; and the government paper Izvestia.

Averki B. Aristov, the party expert on industrial efficiency, frankly told the committee of some of the deficiencies of Soviet industry. He said retooling was too gigantic a task for accomplishment under the seven-year plan which ends in 1965.

The master plan adopted calls for:

1. Use of automatic machinery replacing human labor. Experts were given six months to come up with a plan for broad application of automation.

2. Despite the youth of most Soviet industry, compared with the West, the committee was told that large branches of Soviet industry are trying to produce with machinery long overdue for the scrap pile.

3. Planners were given another deadline—six months—to work out priorities in technical education so that surpluses of specialists in some fields and shortages in others may be eliminated.

85 Flee To Safety In Baltimore Fire

BALTIMORE (AP) — A five-alarm fire burned through a three-story brick building housing laundry, cleaning and dyeing firms Tuesday.

About 85 employes fled the building to safety. The fire broke out about 3 p. m. and was out an hour later. Twenty-seven pieces of equipment fought the fire.

Large clouds of smoke were visible in the downtown area as firemen worked in 100-degree heat.

The building was occupied by Holland Cleaners and Launderers, Colonial Cleaning, Dyeing and Laundry Co. and the Holland Fur Cleaning Co. There was no damage estimate.

Soviet Exhibit Opens

NEW YORK (AP)—The 10-million-dollar Soviet cultural and scientific exhibit went on public view Tuesday. Some 1,000 persons were in line when the doors opened at the New York Coliseum at 11 a.m.

Prison Construction Funds Requested

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Board of Correction Tuesday asked for $7,268,937 in state funds to finance major prison constructions next year, including a new institution for young law violators.

The board gave top priority to a $5,065,500 project for a 600 bed institution to care for boys 15 to 20 years of age now confined at the Reformatory for Males or training schools operated by the State Department of Public Welfare.

The institution would be erected in either Carroll or Frederick County.

Last year, the Maryland Self-Survey Commission recommended the construction of an adolescent prison.

A formal request for the capital improvement projects will be submitted to the State Planning Department Wednesday.

The Board of Correction also wants $350,275 for a new correctional camp adjacent to one it now operates at Hughesville in Charles County. It would increase the capacity of institution from 50 to 150 prisoners.

49-Star Flag To Fly Over Grave Of Key

FREDERICK (AP) — A new 49 star flag will be raised Independence Day over the grave of Francis Scott Key, composer of our national anthem.

The public ceremony in Mt. Olivet Cemetery is set for 6 a.m. Saturday under sponsorship of the Francis Scott Key post of the American Legion.

The early hour was selected because it is reveille time on military posts.

The new flag over the grave and monument near the entrance to the cemetery will replace the 48-star pennant raised last Memorial Day. The newer 50 star flag will be raised when admission to the Union of Hawaii becomes final.

The training college of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Regina, Sask., has a church that is used exclusively by the policemen.

Jonkel, Butler's 1950 'Pilot', Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jon M. Jonkel, 44, former public relations man credited with steering the 1950 upset victory of Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md) over Sen. Millard Tydings, died Monday night in Djkarta, Indonesia.

His Washington attorney, Leo Howard Kerns, said Jonkel died after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage two days before.

Jonkel, formerly of Chicago, was a principal figure in an investigation of the campaign which resulted in the defeat of Tydings after 24 years in the Senate.

After a Senate elections committee hearing on Tydings' complaint that he had been defeated by a "tissue of lies," Jonkel was indicted and later pleaded guilty to violating Maryland's Corrupt Practices Act.

He was charged with failing to keep required detailed accounts of money handled by him, to report campaign finances properly, and was not a designated political agent and a resident of Maryland. He was fined $5,000.

Jonkel, then a public relations man in Chicago, was credited with taking over direction of the campaign to bring victory to Butler, then a little known Baltimore attorney.

Tydings' supporters charged that Tydings was put in the light of being soft on communists. Part of the hearings dealt with a tabloid, for which Jonkel admitted partial responsibility. The tabloid featured a faked photograph purporting to show Tydings in close relationship to former communist leader Earl Browder. Jonkel, however, denied knowledge the photograph was being used, and said that both he and Butler would have stopped its publication had he known of it.

Thousands Of Young People Pass Up Vacations, Work On Church Projects

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI)—Thousands of young people are spurning the luxury of summer vacations to work as volunteers on church-sponsored projects ranging from digging ditches to teaching tenement dwellers how to sew.

While headlines call attention to outbursts of juvenile delinquency in big cities, these young people of all faiths are paying their own way to travel great distances just to work hard for two months—either with no pay at all or only enough to cover their expenses.

They are serving in work camps or youth caravans or are on assignment to individual projects. Their labors include caring for patients in mental hospitals, painting churches, making toys, building roads, farming and taking children of working mothers on outings.

Some of the projects are sponsored by individual churches. Some are sponsored by several churches who have banded together. Others come under the supervision of the National Council of Churches.

The activities may be locally, nationally or internationally sponsored.

The Commission on Youth Projects, with headquarters in New York, has put out a 31-page catalogue of "service opportunities" for young people, suggesting ways to "invest your summer."

The Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Methodist Church are among those who send out youth caravans each summer. Each caravan consists of a handful of young people who spend a week in a different area for each of five or more weeks.

They help with church activities, conduct Sunday services to give ministers time off, make surveys and refurbish church buildings.

Work camps also are a big church project. Many different denominations participate in these.

Recruits at a Congregational Christian work camp in North Dakota are building an Indian camp center. A congregational camp in Hugson, Calif., gathers fruit windfalls, dries them and ships them to the Orient. Another group is building a road in the Ozark mountains of Missouri.

A Methodist work camp is being set up in the heart of Jersey City, N.J., where students will repair, clean and paint the Lafayette Methodist parsonage.

The work camp movement grew out of a 1914 essay written by William James on 'The Moral Equivalent for War."

The first U.S. work camp was set up in 1934, near Pittsburgh, by the American Friends Service Committee, to establish a furniture factory to give work to unemployed coal miners.

Now more than 100 different groups sponsor sizable work camps around the world. The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) coordinates the international work activities of 40,000 young people every summer.

These international projects include refurbishing a college at Le Chambon, France, which was first aided after World War II by the Congregational Church and which now is being helped by a number of groups. There is a road-building project at Yuquiyu, Puerto Rico, and a work camp devoted to health, home economics, agriculture and literacy at Tochimizolco, Mexico.

Young people are paying their fares to go to Marseilles, France, to build a playground for Christian children in a Moslem area, to go to Korea to construct a vocational school and to go to Bolivia to help Okinawan refugees harvest their rice crops.

The first shipment of hybrid seed corn was made in Ohio — at Jacobsburg, April 13, 1916 — about 20 years before hybrids came into general use.

Ants And Birds Among Asian Concert Perils

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A cultural diplomat, peddling the American story throughout the Far East may lead a hard ut exhilarating life.

Look at these headlines on reviews of a concert played in Kuala Lampur, Malaya, y Joel Rosen, a 30-year-old native of Cleveland:

"Brilliant artist, but alas. . . ."

"U. S. pianist triumphs despite great odds."

When you dip into the reviews you see why.

Within 10 minutes, Rosen is routed from the piano by flying ants. Lights out. Ants, thinking party is over, fly away. Rosen tries again. Plays on despite birds which decide to join the the music.

Did you know Malayan birds are fond of Chopin? Plays on despite lusty jikebox in nearby cafe.

"This is no place for temperament," Rosen has said, unnecessarily.

Even with these difficulties, the reviewer, Len Thorne, predicted that Rosen will wind up among the top 10 pianists in the world. Therefore, he was sorry Chinwoo Stadium wasn't completely filled.

"I suppose," Thorne wrote, "If this had been a visit by Mr. Elvis Presley the Chinwoo would have found the youngsters hanging from the roof screaming their healthy lungs out in hero worship."

Well, Rosen has been in town to discuss his 65 concerts in four months with the U.S. Information Agency, which helped sponsor his trip. And how does he like playing in spots so remote that some never have heard a musician from the Western world before?

"Just fabulous," Rosen said. "I liked it so much I'm going back next year."

Rosen, slender and intense, may be ideal for the job. He studied political science at New York University and piano at Juilliard. So the trip gave him a chance to combine his talents and his interests.

"When the concert was over," Rosen said, "my real work began."

Then he would answer questions, talk with students, and try to explain there is more to this country than meets the eye in grade B movies.

When you start wandering through India, Malaya, Indonesia and on to Japan, you run into a lot of people who have only the vaguest notions about the United States.

Rosen thinks it's import to tell the U.S. story to anyone who will listen—"Don't think the Russians aren't telling their story"—and he feels that music, with its universal appeal, is a fine way to break down barriers.

Appeals Court Split On Jobless Pay Ruling

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals split 3-2 Monday over whether an employe, discharged and later reinstated with full back pay, should repay unemployment benefits he collected from the state during his discharge.

The majority — Chief Judge Frederick C. Brune and Judges William L. Henderson and Hall Hammond — ruled he should keep the money. Judges Stedman Prescott and William R. Horney dissented.

The ruling reversed a Baltimore Superior Court decision which ordered William Waters to repay the state's jobless benefit fund $449 he had received in payments while discharged from the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp.

The majority opinion written by Chief Judge Brune upheld Waters' contention that the $449 received from the fund was not "wages" under definition of the Employment Security Act and that therefore he was not required to reimburse the fund.

Court Rules In Zoning Case

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals ruled Monday that Prince Georges County Circuit Court exceeded its authority in reversing a zoning decision made by the county commissioners and sent the case back for further proceedings.

The case involved a 40-acre tract of land owned by Richard J. Donohoe at Oxon Hill and Kirby Hill Rds. which was added to the Washington regional district in 1957.

Donohoe applied for a change in zoning from rural residential to a higher density use. The Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission recommended that the petition be denied and the county commissioners, sitting as a district council, refused to rezone it.

Donohoe appealed to circuit court and Judge Charles C. Marbury reversed the council's action. The appeal involved a test of a 1957 act giving the courts broad review power over zoning decisions of the board.

The Court of Appeals held that Judge Marbury tried the case instead of just reviewing it.

"The (law) makes it abundantly clear that evidence is to be considered and determinations based thereon are to be made in the first instance by the council and not by the circuit court," the high court said.

El Salvador is the smallest of the six Central American or Middle American republics and the only one without an Atlantic seacoast.

More than 50 per cent of Malaya's tin production is obtained by dredging.

Thousands Of Young People Pass Up Vacations, Work On Church Projects

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI)—Thousands of young people are spurning the luxury of summer vacations to work as volunteers on church-sponsored projects ranging from digging ditches to teaching tenement dwellers how to sew.

While headlines call attention to outbursts of juvenile delinquency in big cities, these young people of all faiths are paying their own way to travel great distances just to work hard for two months—either with no pay at all or only enough to cover their expenses.

They are serving in work camps or youth caravans or are on assignment to individual projects. Their labors include caring for patients in mental hospitals, painting churches, making toys, building roads, farming and taking children of working mothers on outings.

Some of the projects are sponsored by individual churches. Some are sponsored by several churches who have banded together. Others come under the supervision of the National Council of Churches.

The activities may be locally, nationally or internationally sponsored.

The Commission on Youth Projects, with headquarters in New York, has put out a 31-page catalogue of "service opportunities" for young people, suggesting ways to "invest your summer."

The Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Methodist Church are among those who send out youth caravans each summer. Each caravan consists of a handful of young people who spend a week in a different area for each of five or more weeks.

They help with church activities, conduct Sunday services to give ministers time off, make surveys and refurbish church buildings.

Work camps also are a big church project. Many different denominations participate in these.

Recruits at a Congregational Christian work camp in North Dakota are building an Indian camp center. A congregational camp in Hugson, Calif., gathers fruit windfalls, dries them and ships them to the Orient. Another group is building a road in the Ozark mountains of Missouri.

A Methodist work camp is being set up in the heart of Jersey City, N.J., where students will repair, clean and paint the Lafayette Methodist parsonage.

The work camp movement grew out of a 1914 essay written by William James on 'The Moral Equivalent for War."

The first U.S. work camp was set up in 1934, near Pittsburgh, by the American Friends Service Committee, to establish a furniture factory to give work to unemployed coal miners.

Now more than 100 different groups sponsor sizable work camps around the world. The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) coordinates the international work activities of 40,000 young people every summer.

These international projects include refurbishing a college at Le Chambon, France, which was first aided after World War II by the Congregational Church and which now is being helped by a number of groups. There is a road-building project at Yuquiyu, Puerto Rico, and a work camp devoted to health, home economics, agriculture and literacy at Tochimizolco, Mexico.

Young people are paying their fares to go to Marseilles, France, to build a playground for Christian children in a Moslem area, to go to Korea to construct a vocational school and to go to Bolivia to help Okinawan refugees harvest their rice crops.

The first shipment of hybrid seed corn was made in Ohio — at Jacobsburg, April 13, 1916 — about 20 years before hybrids came into general use.

Ants And Birds Among Asian Concert Perils

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A cultural diplomat, peddling the American story throughout the Far East may lead a hard ut exhilarating life.

Look at these headlines on reviews of a concert played in Kuala Lampur, Malaya, y Joel Rosen, a 30-year-old native of Cleveland:

"Brilliant artist, but alas. . . ."

"U. S. pianist triumphs despite great odds."

When you dip into the reviews you see why.

Within 10 minutes, Rosen is routed from the piano by flying ants. Lights out. Ants, thinking party is over, fly away. Rosen tries again. Plays on despite birds which decide to join the the music.

Did you know Malayan birds are fond of Chopin? Plays on despite lusty jikebox in nearby cafe.

"This is no place for temperament," Rosen has said, unnecessarily.

Even with these difficulties, the reviewer, Len Thorne, predicted that Rosen will wind up among the top 10 pianists in the world. Therefore, he was sorry Chinwoo Stadium wasn't completely filled.

"I suppose," Thorne wrote, "If this had been a visit by Mr. Elvis Presley the Chinwoo would have found the youngsters hanging from the roof screaming their healthy lungs out in hero worship."

Well, Rosen has been in town to discuss his 65 concerts in four months with the U.S. Information Agency, which helped sponsor his trip. And how does he like playing in spots so remote that some never have heard a musician from the Western world before?

"Just fabulous," Rosen said. "I liked it so much I'm going back next year."

Rosen, slender and intense, may be ideal for the job. He studied political science at New York University and piano at Juilliard. So the trip gave him a chance to combine his talents and his interests.

"When the concert was over," Rosen said, "my real work began."

Then he would answer questions, talk with students, and try to explain there is more to this country than meets the eye in grade B movies.

When you start wandering through India, Malaya, Indonesia and on to Japan, you run into a lot of people who have only the vaguest notions about the United States.

Rosen thinks it's import to tell the U.S. story to anyone who will listen—"Don't think the Russians aren't telling their story"—and he feels that music, with its universal appeal, is a fine way to break down barriers.

Court Rules In Zoning Case

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals ruled Monday that Prince Georges County Circuit Court exceeded its authority in reversing a zoning decision made by the county commissioners and sent the case back for further proceedings.

The case involved a 40-acre tract of land owned by Richard J. Donohoe at Oxon Hill and Kirby Hill Rds. which was added to the Washington regional district in 1957.

Donohoe applied for a change in zoning from rural residential to a higher density use. The Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission recommended that the petition be denied and the county commissioners, sitting as a district council, refused to rezone it.

Donohoe appealed to circuit court and Judge Charles C. Marbury reversed the council's action. The appeal involved a test of a 1957 act giving the courts broad review power over zoning decisions of the board.

The Court of Appeals held that Judge Marbury tried the case instead of just reviewing it.

"The (law) makes it abundantly clear that evidence is to be considered and determinations based thereon are to be made in the first instance by the council and not by the circuit court," the high court said.

El Salvador is the smallest of the six Central American or Middle American republics and the only one without an Atlantic seacoast.

More than 50 per cent of Malaya's tin production is obtained by dredging.

Appeals Court Split On Jobless Pay Ruling

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals split 3-2 Monday over whether an employe, discharged and later reinstated with full back pay, should repay unemployment benefits he collected from the state during his discharge.

The majority — Chief Judge Frederick C. Brune and Judges William L. Henderson and Hall Hammond — ruled he should keep the money. Judges Stedman Prescott and William R. Horney dissented.

The ruling reversed a Baltimore Superior Court decision which ordered William Waters to repay the state's jobless benefit fund $449 he had received in payments while discharged from the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp.

The majority opinion written by Chief Judge Brune upheld Waters' contention that the $449 received from the fund was not "wages" under definition of the Employment Security Act and that therefore he was not required to reimburse the fund.

Centenary Festival To Be Aug. 13

Centenary WSCS formulated plans for a festival on the church grounds, August 13, at the meeting recently; also a rummage sale, July 28 from 1 to 3 and 7 to 8 in the basement of Centre Street Church. Mrs. Edith Neild presided.

Discipline and self help were the theme of the program. Mrs. Margaret Hardinger had as her topic, "Discipline and Discipleship," pointing out that discipleship means a disciplined life, but not hemmed in by restraints and irritating limitations. A poem, "Faith" was read, the Lord's Prayer was said, and the group sang, "This Is My Father's World," and "I'll Go Where You Want Me To Go."

Mrs. Madeline Little spoke of Mrs. Mildred Thrasher, 14 Harrison Street, chosen Mother of the Year by the county Multiple Sclerosis Society, stressing her cheerfulness in helping herself and others, though confined to a wheel chair, and of her faith in God. Speaking of "Self-Help for Gaza Refugees," Mrs. Helen White said one of the most unfortunate features of the Middle East camps is the lack of employment and training. She told of the Methodist overseas relief committee's project of teaching the girls to operate knitting machines. They earn a small wage and the knitted articles are distributed to refugee children in Gaza.

Announcement was made of articles to be sent to Asbury Home for Children for the quarter. Members are to bring their contributions to the next meeting. Rev. and Mrs. E. K. Sawyers were welcomed. Concluding the meeting Mrs. Fannie Wilson and Mrs. Hilda Growden served refreshments.

New York -- City Of Amazing Contrasts

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov came tearing across the world at 460 miles an hour Sunday to visit what is advertised as one of the world's most bustling cities. Almost immediately he was slowed to 10 per.

Shifting from the Soviet great prop-jet airliner, he boarded a World War II infantry landing craft, converted into a sightseeing yacht, to see what is truly one of the wonders of the world.

The contrasts during the sightseeing trip around Manhattan Island are amazing. The boats leave from a rotting little pier in a basin noted chiefly for its garbage, yet only a little way from the berths of great ocean liners.

A mile behind it is one of the world's great garment making centers.

Once out in the Hudson, the great panorama of New York begins to unroll. There is Ellis Island, four-fifths of which is composed of rocks dumped by ships from the old world that came in ballast. There landed the refugees from Europe come to make their fortune, and help make a nation. Nearby the Statue of Liberty, lifting her lamp before what became truly, for millions, the Golden Door.

On the left as the boat heads for the East River is the home of Money, the financial district, and across the water the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where now is a building the world's greatest aircraft carrier, the home of War.

A little farther north, the East River bank of Manhattan becomes a veritable home of Humanity. There great piles of buildings house the ill and those who work to cure them.

Bellevue, first great municipal hospital from which no ailing body or mind may be turned away. Cornell Medical Center and New York Hospital lumped together, treating and studying. Other great private hospitals and the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Between them, the buildings of the United Nations, trying to give international meaning to the spirit of man and his political moralities, and the modern apartments where once were slums.

Then Randall's Island, holding a great state hospital, surrounded by one great park for relaxation from the city's hurry, connected to Manhattan only by a walkway over the river.

The land devoted to humanity in New York is far greater than that allotted the financial district.

As the boat passes through the Harlem River, under 15 bridges, and through Spuyten Duyvil back to the Hudson, men and women, boys and girls of many races splash in the water, or fish, and there's the bay where Henry Hudson anchored his little forerunner of all the ships which now work the world's greatest port.

No materialism here. All across the northern tip of the world's most crowded island there is a large natural woodland. In it are three reconstructed monasteries from the old world, housing appropriate treasures of art from the Metropolitan Museum.

And benches, out in the woods, just for people.

Down the Hudson is Columbia University. Great churches, modern apartments where people live, and the midtown skyscrapers where they work.

Many of them are from the cities and towns of heartland America. Many of them sprung from the Old World. All of them in the city of their own free will, all of them free to leave if they will.

A lot of contrasts, the city offers, for the deputy premier of the Soviet Union.

The cultivation of the grape and the making of wine are of remote antiquity, as appears from the frequent mention of this in the Biblical history of Noah and other Scripture characters.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist Party's Central Committee Monday closed a six-day Kremlin plenary session after hearing an address by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. No details of the speech were made public.

Traffic Death Toll Heading For Record

CHICAGO (UPI) —May traffic deaths jumped for the fifth straight month, pointing to a "1959 death total significantly higher than in 1958," the National Safety Council said Monday night.

The council said this year's toll —13,940 from January through May — was especially staggering at this time because hundreds of motorists may die during the Fourth of July weekend.

A total of 13,280 persons died during the first five months of last year—a five per cent lower toll than in 1959.

Forecaster Retires

LONDON (UPI) — Weather forecaster William Marshall retired Tuesday after a 39-year-career. His final forecast was for rain.

MDs Move Toward Standardized Fees

WASHINGTON (AP)— The District of Columbia Medical Society has approved a plan which may be the first step toward standardizing doctors' fees here.

The society at a membership meeting agreed on a relative value schedule, in which all medical procedures are related. Examples: A routine gall bladder removal would be 50 units; a routine office visit would be one unit.

Other procedures would vary in number of units depending on the difficulties and skills involved. No dollar value has been placed on the basic unit.

Dr. W. Le Roy Dunn, president, said the society's action "marks a milestone in its efforts to meet some of the cost factors in medical care."

Dunn said for the present the physician in private practice is not bound by any fee schedule as to dollars. However, it is expected he will be bound by the schedules in determining his charges to patients.

Chevrolet Widens Lead

DETROIT (AP)—Chevrolet has widened its lead over Ford to almost 100,000 units in the 1959 auto production race.

After a close battle through late winter and early spring Chevrolet has built almost 874,000 cars while Ford's total is just over 776,000.

New York -- City Of Amazing Contrasts

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov came tearing across the world at 460 miles an hour Sunday to visit what is advertised as one of the world's most bustling cities. Almost immediately he was slowed to 10 per.

Shifting from the Soviet great prop-jet airliner, he boarded a World War II infantry landing craft, converted into a sightseeing yacht, to see what is truly one of the wonders of the world.

The contrasts during the sightseeing trip around Manhattan Island are amazing. The boats leave from a rotting little pier in a basin noted chiefly for its garbage, yet only a little way from the berths of great ocean liners.

A mile behind it is one of the world's great garment making centers.

Once out in the Hudson, the great panorama of New York begins to unroll. There is Ellis Island, four-fifths of which is composed of rocks dumped by ships from the old world that came in ballast. There landed the refugees from Europe come to make their fortune, and help make a nation. Nearby the Statue of Liberty, lifting her lamp before what became truly, for millions, the Golden Door.

On the left as the boat heads for the East River is the home of Money, the financial district, and across the water the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where now is a building the world's greatest aircraft carrier, the home of War.

A little farther north, the East River bank of Manhattan becomes a veritable home of Humanity. There great piles of buildings house the ill and those who work to cure them.

Bellevue, first great municipal hospital from which no ailing body or mind may be turned away. Cornell Medical Center and New York Hospital lumped together, treating and studying. Other great private hospitals and the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Between them, the buildings of the United Nations, trying to give international meaning to the spirit of man and his political moralities, and the modern apartments where once were slums.

Then Randall's Island, holding a great state hospital, surrounded by one great park for relaxation from the city's hurry, connected to Manhattan only by a walkway over the river.

The land devoted to humanity in New York is far greater than that allotted the financial district.

As the boat passes through the Harlem River, under 15 bridges, and through Spuyten Duyvil back to the Hudson, men and women, boys and girls of many races splash in the water, or fish, and there's the bay where Henry Hudson anchored his little forerunner of all the ships which now work the world's greatest port.

No materialism here. All across the northern tip of the world's most crowded island there is a large natural woodland. In it are three reconstructed monasteries from the old world, housing appropriate treasures of art from the Metropolitan Museum.

And benches, out in the woods, just for people.

Down the Hudson is Columbia University. Great churches, modern apartments where people live, and the midtown skyscrapers where they work.

Many of them are from the cities and towns of heartland America. Many of them sprung from the Old World. All of them in the city of their own free will, all of them free to leave if they will.

A lot of contrasts, the city offers, for the deputy premier of the Soviet Union.

The cultivation of the grape and the making of wine are of remote antiquity, as appears from the frequent mention of this in the Biblical history of Noah and other Scripture characters.

Kremlin Session Ends

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist Party's Central Committee Monday closed a six-day Kremlin plenary session after hearing an address by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. No details of the speech were made public.

Traffic Death Toll Heading For Record

CHICAGO (UPI) —May traffic deaths jumped for the fifth straight month, pointing to a "1959 death total significantly higher than in 1958," the National Safety Council said Monday night.

The council said this year's toll —13,940 from January through May — was especially staggering at this time because hundreds of motorists may die during the Fourth of July weekend.

A total of 13,280 persons died during the first five months of last year—a five per cent lower toll than in 1959.

Forecaster Retires

LONDON (UPI) — Weather forecaster William Marshall retired Tuesday after a 39-year-career. His final forecast was for rain.

MDs Move Toward Standardized Fees

WASHINGTON (AP)— The District of Columbia Medical Society has approved a plan which may be the first step toward standardizing doctors' fees here.

The society at a membership meeting agreed on a relative value schedule, in which all medical procedures are related. Examples: A routine gall bladder removal would be 50 units; a routine office visit would be one unit.

Other procedures would vary in number of units depending on the difficulties and skills involved. No dollar value has been placed on the basic unit.

Dr. W. Le Roy Dunn, president, said the society's action "marks a milestone in its efforts to meet some of the cost factors in medical care."

Dunn said for the present the physician in private practice is not bound by any fee schedule as to dollars. However, it is expected he will be bound by the schedules in determining his charges to patients.

A type of raincoat is known as a mackintosh after Charles Mackintosh, who prepared a waterproof cloth for garments in Scotland in the 19th century.

Chevrolet Widens Lead

late winter and early spring Chevrolet has built almost 874,000 cars while Ford's total is just over 776,000.

Thomas Elias Moves Tailor Shop

FROSTBURG — Thomas Elias tailor shop located on West Main Street next to the Frostburg National Bank has moved to a business to 39 Broadway. Elias pointed out that a strange coincidence is connected with his moving. Over 40 years ago, he said, he was located on Broadway in the building now occupied by Bollinos Barber Shop. The Potomac Edison Company was located next door in the room now occupied by the Broadway market. The Potomac Edison Company moved to West Main Street in the room adjoining the bank and a few years later Elias moved next door. Several years ago the Potomac Edison moved to their new building on Broadway and now Elias is again moving next door to the "P.E."

Associated with Elias in the cleaning, pressing and tailor shop is his brother James Elias.

Several years ago the Potomac Edison moved to their new building on Broadway and now Elias is again moving next door to the "P.E."

Associated with Elias in the cleaning, pressing and tailor shop is his brother James Elias.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A Three-Point Figure Program

A good figure is too great an asset to let it slip away from you in little ways.

This is something that will never happen to you, if you take heed now just a little sensible planning will keep your figure in schoolgirl trim permanently. All you need do is follow the Powers Girl three-point program that is sure to keep figure faults from ever developing.

Here it is, and I'm sure you'll find it easy and pleasant to follow!

1. Set up a course of six exercises for yourself with each one designed to control the danger points of weight accumulation. Stick to it for ten minutes a day. The following require very little time or energy:

Roll your head around your shoulders in both directions. Rotate your shoulders as far as you can in forward and backward directions. At shoulder level, fling your arms in large circles. Bend from your waist like a rag doll in every direction. Sit on the floor and "walk" across the room on your hips. Stand up and squat toward the floor until your hips touch your heels.

2. Budget your time schedule to include a general fitness routine. Plan to walk at last a mile daily and spend no less than fifteen minutes in the fresh air and sun. This simple, free investment in your appearance pays off with prodigal dividends — firm muscles, pink cheeks, sparkling eyes, appealing vitality and sound health!

The way you spend your recreational hours is also important to the maintenance of those attractive qualities. Three hours a week devoted to your favorite sport will insure your possession of them, as well as your relief from nervous tension, the plague that robs so many women of their youth and fresh looks.

3. Last comes your diet (and I'll bet you guessed it would come.) Well, here's a surprise! If you faithfully carry out points 1 and 2, you won't have to worry too much about your calories. You can eat all the lean meat, fruit, vegetables,, milk and eggs you desire. You will only have to take it easy on the gooey concoctions of starch and sugar. Begin now! This is the moment to commence your figure education whether your diploma is brand new or was put away in the attic years ago.

This last point will be a little easier to heed with "Your Calorie Guide"—FREE to readers of this column. Just send a stamped, return envelope to Secrets of Charm, c/o this newspaper, along with your request.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♥	Double	4 ♥
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♠.

When you realize that the enemy has an important message to get through, that is the time to jam their communications, as witness today's hand.

After South's opening bid West was faced with a mild problem. A mere overcall of one spade would not do justice to the hand and might, he feared, even result in failure to reach the best contract. After due consideration West elected to double.

North's preemptive raise to four hearts was well chosen. Despite partner's opening bid the chances were that his side's defensive strength would not be very formidable. The best tactics seemed to be to place the pressure upon the adversaries to make the correct guess. East could take no action and West was up against it. He felt he was being talked out of something, but any bid by him might prove disastrous.

It will be noted that East and West could have made five clubs but it would have required master minding of the first order to get three in the face of the barricade.

The queen of spades was opened. Declarer won in dummy with the king and drew three rounds of trump. The eight of clubs was permitted to ride to West's ten and the spade return taken by declarer's ace. Now the remaining club was ruffed away and a third round of spades put West back in. He led the eight of spades and declarer discarded the six of diamonds and the enemy had no way to score another trick. The lead of a black card would permit a ruff and discard and a diamond return would be into South's major tenace.

Had East hopped up with the king of clubs when that suit was led from dummy and shifted to a diamond he would have defeated the contract, for South could no longer project the end play.

BOHLEN RETURNING

MANILA (UPI)—Well-informed sources said Monday that U. S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen was expected shortly to be recalled to Washington for a new assignment with the State Department. The sources said Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo cabled the Foreign Office from Washington that there was some basis for the reports that Bohlen was due to be transferred.

Industrial Fund Drive To Open At Dinner Today

William L. Wilson, local attorney and president of the Queen City Brewing Company, will be toastmaster for the dinner meeting today at 6:30 p. m. at the Cumberland Country Club to open the drive for a minimum of $100,000 to finance industrial promotion of the Cumberland Industrial Development Company.

C. M. Sanner, secretary of the George F. Hazelwood Company, is general chairman of the fund drive. He said that 160 individuals and representatives of the Cumberland area businesses and professions have been invited.

The CIDC organization has received a written ruling from the commissioner of Internal Revenue's Exempt Organizations Branch that subscribers to the fund can use the amounts given as a business expense in computing their federal income taxes. The organization itself is also exempt from federal income taxes because it is a non-profit group.

Television and Radio

by John Crosby

For the second year in a row, CBS radio network will carry the Newport Jazz Festival (July 2, 3, 4 and 5 from 9:05 to 10 p.m. EDT) and again Mitch Miller, the bearded prophet of popular music, will act as commentator. Jazz, which had been for many years the private property of a few mystics, is acquiring a real mass audience, says Miller, who is not wildly popular with the jazz devotees.

"All the people who come down to Newport must really like jazz," Miller points out, "I can't see anyone going through all that discomfort for nothing. There's not much social activity at Newport (not for the jazz addicts, anyhow) — no place to sleep, they sleep on beaches and in their cars. Really, there's more action at Tanglewood."

I asked him if he thought that the beatniks had anything to do with the revival of the popularity of jazz. "Absolutely not!" said Miller explosively. "Music is the one thing you can't fake. You have to deliver. Most guys can fake their writing and their painting because of the way tastes are and wait for time to catch up with them — but they can't fake music. They may have adopted jazz to give them a little respectability, but jazz has not adopted them.

"There are a lot of those beat idiots, to whom a musician either has to be dead or on the needle or in a sanitarium to be great. This isn't true. Look at the greats — Brubeck, Garner, Ellington, packing concert halls. Garner's audiences go wild for all the right reasons. He has a great left hand; his improvisations have wit and he enjoys himself."

Having polished off the beatniks, Mr. Miller went to work on the jazz critics—a profound group of deep thinkers whose polysyllabics are understood by almost no one, especially the musicians themselves. "There is a lot of irony connected with the Jazz Festival," said Miller. "The reason for it is that those self-appointed, self-anointed critics of jazz don't really like jazz to be appreciated outside of a chosen few. With 20,000 people showing up at Newport and a mass audience listening to the Festival on radio, these critics will read the performers there out of the lodge. They'll probably say they're no good any more because people like them."

(Actually, the cultist aspect of jazz is becoming increasingly tiresome to the musicians themselves because there's no money in it. It's flattering to be considered of such profound significance that only a handful of intellectuals appreciate what you're doing — but it doesn't sell tickets or records. For about fifteen years, jazz was such a profoundly intellectual experience that the musicians almost starved to death.)

"The three greats — Earl Garner, Duke Ellington and Louis Armstrong (this was said before Armstrong's illness in Spoleto) are going to be headliners this year. Jazz is assuming great proportions. The whole field of appreciation for jazz is increasing among the very young. Even though we've put up with a good many of their musical aborrations (rock 'n roll, for instance), the young have to graduate to something better and the fifteen and sixteen-year-olds are looking around for something else. They'd like to take a chance and break away from the herd. There's a tremendous crop of war babies coming up who have graduated to appreciating jazz."

Mr. Miller was asked to explain the popularity of these mop-haired, slack-mouthed, one-note shouters haunting the juke boxes and the radio. The Beard sighed a big sigh: "Kids don't know what they like, really. Subconsciously, I think they must have pretty good taste because they throw away their heroes every two weeks; they don't wallow in mediocrity with the same guys. And what happens to some of these momentary heroes is pretty tragic; they have one hit song and they disappear and after they pay off their managers and press agents, there isn't any money left for themselves."

"Some of these boy singers have an unhealthy sex appeal about them — I think the girls who make idols of them are missing something in their own lives. You know popular music is the only art form taking a dive now. Everything else is coming up. People are reading books again, buying good music, and they're interested in art. But even with the kids buying all the rock 'n roll records, the real money — 80 cents out of every dollar spent on records — goes to long playing records of really good music; only 20 cents goes to single records.

"Jazz is a utilitarian thing," he said. "I think Peter Gunn has made more people jazz conscious than anything in the past ten years. Duke Ellington did the entire score for the movie of 'Anatomy of a Murder' and that will make even more people jazz conscious. Anything that opens the door to jazz appreciation is a great thing."

Commissioners Continue To Receive Complaints About Dusty Conditions Of Roads In County

The problem of dusty roads in the county continue to plague the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

At yesterday's session of the board the condition on Little Orleans Road and Adams Road were outlined by representatives of persons residing on those two sections.

Gerald Twigg appeared concerning the Little Orleans Road condition. He said that clouds of dust make driving hazardous and also creates a health problem.

Soon after a group of residents of the Little Orleans Road and also the Adams Road appeared. Mrs. Donald McCusker was spokesman for the group.

She told the commissioners that the only solution for the problem is to hardsurface the road. At one point she commented that many of the roads in the Georges Creek section were hardsurfaced while promises had been made in the past for similar surfacing in the eastern part of the county.

Commissioner John Tucker Mason said with a smile: "Give us 40 years and we'll give you hardsurfaced roads." He was referring to the 40 year reign of the Republican party in the county. Last November the Democrats took over the county board for the first time in that period of time.

Commissioner William A. Wilson said that he understands the condition is bad and said that there will be about $250,000 available in federal matching funds for hardsurface roads during the fiscal year starting today.

Wilson said that no program has been devised so far but that some action on hardsurfacing will be taken in the near future. This is the first year that funds have been available for matching fund roads projects since several years ago, he added.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said that the board is new and no provision had been made in the budget for oiling of roads. "But I can assure you that next year some funds will be set aside for oiling of these roads."

Rowan also said that Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, is against oiling of roads on the basis that the oil causes the dirt to pack and break up into chunks when graded later on. Rowan said he feels there are oils specially produced for dusty roads which would give relief and also not result in the condition Skelly complained of during a recent discussion.

Rowan also told the Little Orleans residents that this summer the Roads Department will grade and widen roadways in the eastern section of the county and also eliminate some bad curves.

It was stated the Little Orleans Road is hardsurfaced for two miles from U.S. Route 40 and about five miles which is unpaved. The road has a good base, Rowan added.

Commissioners Continue To Receive Complaints About Dusty Conditions Of Roads In County

The problem of dusty roads in the county continue to plague the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

At yesterday's session of the board the condition on Little Orleans Road and Adams Road were outlined by representatives of persons residing on those two sections.

Gerald Twigg appeared concerning the Little Orleans Road condition. He said that clouds of dust make driving hazardous and also creates a health problem.

Soon after a group of residents of the Little Orleans Road and also the Adams Road appeared. Mrs. Donald McCusker was spokesman for the group.

She told the commissioners that the only solution for the problem is to hardsurface the road. At one point she commented that many of the roads in the Georges Creek section were hardsurfaced while promises had been made in the past for similar surfacing in the eastern part of the county.

Commissioner John Tucker Mason said with a smile: "Give us 40 years and we'll give you hardsurfaced roads." He was referring to the 40 year reign of the Republican party in the county. Last November the Democrats took over the county board for the first time in that period of time.

Commissioner William A. Wilson said that he understands the condition is bad and said that there will be about $250,000 available in federal matching funds for hardsurface roads during the fiscal year starting today.

Wilson said that no program has been devised so far but that some action on hardsurfacing will be taken in the near future. This is the first year that funds have been available for matching fund roads projects since several years ago, he added.

State Board Of Education Plans To Purchase Frostburg Mansion For Expansion Of College

The State Board of Education has obtained an option to purchase Frost Mansion, one of the oldest and most beautiful residences in Frostburg.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., state superintendent of schools, announced yesterday that the State Board of Education has acted favorably upon the purchase of the Frost property in Frostburg, contingent upon an appropriation being made by the Legislature at the session in 1960.

The purchase price is $40,000 and an option for the purchase of the property has been given the State Board of Education by the owner, Mrs. Alice Frey, according to William A. Gunter, local attorney, and vice president of the board.

Dr. Pullen said the board plans to use the property, which is located convenient to the main grounds of Frostburg State Teachers College, for several purposes, the first being the future site of the president's home and the erection of several faculty residences, which the board anticipates building probably on a self-liquidating basis.

Members of the board have pointed out that one of the chief difficulties the college has in securing instructors is the lack of adequate and appropriate housing. Many colleges and universities have solved this problem by the erection of houses, the cost of which is amortized over a period of time by rentals, Dr. Pullen said.

The state board feels that Frost Mansion, with some renovation, will probably be used by the college for overflow dormitory needs with some reservations.

The mansion was built by Meshach and Catherine Frost and served as their home for more than 25 years. The town of Frostburg was settled in 1812 and was named Mt. Pleasant, but later changed to Frostburg in memory of the Frost family.

The three-story structure is located on Frost Avenue, four blocks from the college, and the property includes an entire town block.

Following the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Frost the dwelling was occupied by nine Frost children who all played an important role in the industrial development of Frostburg.

During the late 1800s the structure was purchased by the Frostburg Bicycle Racing Club and a racing track was constructed around the property.

Shortly after 1900 the property was purchased by the late Arthur and Rosina Hitchins. Upon the death of Mrs. Rosina Hitchins the mansion was occupied by her niece, Mrs. Alice Frey, until last week.

County To Begin Investing Tax Funds Next Month

A resolution was adopted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to invest $1,200,000 of county tax funds in U. S. government securities starting in August.

Commissioner John Tucker Mason has been authorized to purchase the securities on behalf of the board through the Second National Bank of Cumberland. The securities will be kept in safekeeping for the board in the First National Bank of Baltimore.

Each of the purchases except one will be in the amount of $100,000 with the first unit being bought August 1. This will be a certificate of indebtedness at one and five-eighths per cent interest.

Six U. S. Treasury bills of $100,000 each will be bought on September 3, October 1, October 29, November 27 and December 24 of this year and one January 15, 1960.

A $100,000 certificate of indebtedness at three and three-fourths per cent interest will be bought February 15, 1960. U. S. Treasury bills in the amount of $200,000 will be purchased March 21, 1960 and another Treasury bill of $100,000 on April 15, 1960. The final purchase will be $100,000 in Treasury notes of three and one-half per cent interest on May 15, 1960.

The county board discussed the investment of county funds which are not in use so that interest could be earned in meetings during the last two months.

Mason will handle the financial transactions for the county board. Checks will be drawn against the county's account in the Second National Bank for the securities. A letter from Mason to Joseph M. Naughton, president of the Second National, was sent today concerning the securities purchase program by the county.

Celanese Enters Missile Field

NEW YORK (AP) — Celanese Corp. of America is buying a plant in Asheville, N. C. to produce high energy fuels for rockets and guided missiles, President Harold Blancke said Tuesday.

The plant is now owned by Oerlikon Corp. of Zurich, Switzerland, a leading producer of rockets and missiles. It will be operated by Amcel Propulsion Inc., in which Celanese will have a controlling interest.

Some months ago, Celanese announced it would enter the rocket fuel field and retained Julius P. Zeigler, a noted research scientist, as manager of high energy materials operations.

Several products supplied by the company's chemical division can be used in the manufacture of the newer rocket propellants, Blancke said.

They include high alpha cellulose and certain monomers and plymers.

Wreck Sends Freight Cars End Over End

KENTON, Ohio (UPI) — A speeding Erie freight train hurtled off the tracks here Tuesday tossing meat, corn syrup and farm tractors along the right-of-way.

Damage was estimated at two million dollars by station agent Martin Egner.

Cause of the wreck was not immediately determined but rail officials said a split track might have been at fault. No one was injured.

Many of the cars were reduced to splinters of tangled wood and steel as they tumbled end over end from the track.

Ten Area Men Join Air Force

During the month of June, a total of 10 area men enlisted in the Air Force through the local recruiting station, S/Sgt. James A. Hawthorne reports. The group includes:

Chester A. Wilson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilson Sr., Bedford Road, 1957 Fort Hill graduate; Durwood B. Graham Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Graham Sr., Valley Road, 1959 Fort Hill graduate; Mark E. Haselberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Haselberger, Gramlich Road.

Francis C. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denton E. Meyers, Carpenter's Addition, Ridgeley, W. Va., a 1959 graduate of Ridgeley High; Kedrick W. Tysinger Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Tysinger Sr., of Wiley Ford, W. Va., a graduate of Keyser High School, 1957.

Francis E. Trimble, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Trimble, Mt. Savage, 1959 graduate of Mt. Savage High; Cleveland A. Riggleman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Riggleman Sr., 315 Newton Street, Keyser, W. Va., a 1959 graduate of Keyser High.

Robert L. Hutcheson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Hutcheson, 68 Douglas Avenue, Lonaconing, a graduate of Valley High School, 1959; Russell D. Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Riley, 204 Roosevelt Street, Westernport, a graduate of Bruce High, 1959; and Donald D. Airesman, 14 Crescent Place, Cumberland.

Sgt. Hawthorne said all of these men have begun their basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

W.Va. Deadline On Auto Tags Is Extended

July 15 Is Set As Final Date

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The deadline for obtaining West Virginia automobile, truck or trailer licenses was extended Tuesday to July 15.

State Motor Vehicles Commissioner Hubert Kelly said the move was made necessary by large number of persons who have changed addresses in the past year.

The deadline for motor vehicle licenses normally is June 30 and as late as Monday Kelly had hoped to stick within that date.

"Our requests for new automobile tags are far over those of last year," he said. "And the tremendous increase of changes in address has caused much additional work in the department."

Kelly said he expected 500,000 or more Class A (automobile) licenses to be issued for the 1959-60 licensing period, some 20,000 more than last year.

He explained that for each change of address, a new application must be made. This, along with lateness in getting the original forms in the mail caused a hardship, Kelly said.

The 1959 Legislature placed the licensing of automobiles and trucks on a flat rate basis by weight. Previously they had been scaled to uneven dollars, adding to the work of the motor vehicles personnel.

This caused some applications to be as many as four or more weeks later than last year in reaching owners. The new rates call for a $20 fee for those cars weighing under 3,000 pounds, $24 for those between 3,000 and 4,000 and $30 for all over 4,000 pounds.

Gleaners Class Honors Fathers

FROSTBURG — In observance of Fathers Day, the Gleaners Class of First Methodist Church, had their husbands as guests at a recent meeting. R. Bowen Hardesty Jr. and S. Oliver Rephan, sons of two of the members presented the program. Hardesty gave the devotion using re-creation instead of recreation in vacation time. Rephan accompanied by Miss Carol Bean sang several selections. He sang one number composed and dedicated to him by his brother, Richard Rephan.

Francis Ives accompanied the group in singing.

The committee in charge for the evening was Harriet Elias, and Thelma Mackay, co-chairmen, Emily Jeffries, Eva C. Kemp, Viola Wilkinson and Ethel Wolfe.

Guests included Walter Plummer, James Morgan, Alvan Morton, James B. Elias, John B. Ives, Myron Lehr, Joseph Brode, Edward Richards, Henry Shaffer, Paul Rice, Clarence F. Rephan, Edward Ewald, Thomas Elias, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ernest DuVall, Margaret Buterbaugh and Carol Jean Hersh.

The group announced that there would not be a meeting in July.

Judge Delays Passing Rape Death Sentence

BEAUFORT, S.C. (AP)—Judge J. Henry Johnson delayed passing the mandatory death sentence Tuesday on a white Marine convicted of raping a Negro woman.

While he considered a motion for a new trial the jurist began hearing another trial—this one involving charges of attempted rape on a white housewife by a young Negro.

Judge Johnson indicated he expects the current trial to last through Wednesday and that he would not sentence the Marine, Pvt. Fred G. Davis, 24, of Atlanta, until Thursday.

Sister Of Former W.Va. Senator Dies

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Mrs. Anna Beall Silver Hoffman, 82-year-old sister of the late State Sen. Gray Silver, died at the home of a son here Tuesday.

A native of Berkeley County, she was the widow of Lester Chenowith Hoffman, who died in April, 1953. Mrs. Hoffman was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Besides the son, Leonard C. Hoffman, survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Emily Gray Shreve of Arlington, Va., and a sister, Mrs. Felton Harper of Winchester, Va.

Funeral services will be held Thursday in Bunker Hill Presbyterian Church, Berkeley County, with burial in the church cemetery.

Frostburg Pool Reports Record Attendance

FROSTBURG — A record number of bathers beat the heat here on Monday by using the community pool. A total of 453 bathers paid admissions. According to William Vogtman, city clerk, this number is far above the average attendance. He pointed out that Mondays are usually slow days with only 97 paid admissions one week ago and the pool was closed the two previous weeks to cold weather.

Everything is in readiness for a large attendance on the 4th said Vogtman. Since the new filter system has been operating, the custom of draining and filling the pool periodically is no longer necessary and as a result swimming is available any day during the summer that the weather permits.

Another large attendance, possibly a record, was anticipated for Tuesday, Vogtman pointed out.

The group announced that there would not be a meeting in July.

Frostburg Pool Reports Record Attendance

FROSTBURG — A record number of bathers beat the heat here on Monday by using the community pool. A total of 453 bathers paid admissions. According to William Vogtman, city clerk, this number is far above the average attendance. He pointed out that Mondays are usually slow days with only 97 paid admissions one week ago and the pool was closed the two previous weeks to cold weather.

Everything is in readiness for a large attendance on the 4th said Vogtman. Since the new filter system has been operating, the custom of draining and filling the pool periodically is no longer necessary and as a result swimming is available any day during the summer that the weather permits.

Another large attendance, possibly a record, was anticipated for Tuesday, Vogtman pointed out.

The Name Changes, But Fight Goes On

After nearly three-quarters of a century, one of the best established of political leopards is undertaking to change its spots. As of today, July 1, the redoubtable American Tariff League becomes the Trade Relations Council of the United States.

The change, no doubt, is partly perfumery. Over the years, the word "tariff" has taken on an archaic, faintly disagreeable air, redolent of celluloid collars. It conjures up the titanic clashes between Free Trade and Protectionism which used to rock Congress to its heels every few years.

But the renaming also reflects shifting realities. The Great Issues have gone lower case. Advocates of free trade and tariff protection still go at it hammer and tongs, but the battlefield has shifted.

Today, as League President Ralph A. Butland conceded recently, "tariffs as such are a joke" (though, of course, a notably unfunny one both to advocates and condemners). President Eisenhower's Commission on Foreign Economic Policy estimated in 1954 that eliminating all U. S. tariffs in one fell swoop would displace no more than 400,000 American workers and probably fewer than 200,000.

The real fence against foreign competition now is the import quota system—this and the political horsetrading in which the White House must engage to win periodic renewals of the reciprocal trade program. For example, insiders say President Eisenhower was forced to barter quotas on lead and zinc in exchange for votes to put over the 1958 extension.

These quotas may have serious effects on the economies of friendly countries. And they may be illogical from a strictly economic view. (Harvard economist Sumner Slichter thinks eliminating all restrictions on imports would be an effective brake on inflation.) But they are nonetheless attractive to companies bucking cheap foreign imports and to workmen whose jobs might otherwise disappear. So Tariff League or Trade Relations Council, the battle still is joined.

These Days

Practical Politics

Politics is the art of the control of people by organized means. Each country has its own techniques. Each people has its own tradition. For instance, from 1912 to 1927, China attempted to be a democratic republic modelled after the United States. All these efforts failed because they were not within the traditions of the Chinese people. Similarly, Great Britain, as much a republic as the United States, maintains the institution of royalty at great cost because it is essential to the nature of British society.

The so-called practical politician, in the United States, is a person who believes that he knows how to manipulate the organized effort to gain control of the mechanics of elections. To use his colloquialism, he knows how to ring door-bells. Very often, however, such a person does not know how to ring door-bells. Very often, however, such a person does not know why he belongs to a particular party; he has no idea as to what that party stands for; he has no basic objection to the opposing party. He knows the manoeuvres of "getting out the vote." As he is more concerned with techniques than with substance, even his opponents can avoid quarrelling with him.

Look the world over and most "practical politicians" are just such persons and although they might on occasion help to win elections, they add little benefit to the nation within which they operate.

In the United States, the practical politician is rapidly being defeated by radio and television. He is like the horse in the cavalry—out-moded. Most of our young people are better informed about the affairs of the day than the practical politician. They look upon those who show up near election time as fossils emerging once every two years to tell them something they do not believe.

In the actual planning of campaigns, the so-called practical politician has little or nothing to say. Essential campaign planning is being done today by advertising men and public relations counsel who write the speeches for candidates and project their personalities through several mechanical devices. In many instances, the pollsters decide what it is safe to say and what will bring opprobrium and failure to the candidates, even on the lowest level.

Those who plan political campaigns are no longer so concerned with getting the vote out. That is easy. Each special pressure group gets out its own vote. The real task of organized politics is to find a candidate who can be elected and to find a platform that is sufficiently meaningless not to be a handicap and sufficiently meaningful to give particular pressure groups the impression that they have won the day.

This is the way politics is operated in the United States. It is true that many old-timers have what they call practical solutions to political problems but they never can explain why their candidates never win. The Wendell Willkie candidacy is a case in point. Willkie was a product of the desire of the National Association of Manufacturers to have a candidate who believed in private enterprise and could win.

He had been a Socialist, became a member of Tammany Hall and a local committeeman and was in effect, the top publicist for an electric power combine. He was a good speaker, a forceful personality, a farm boy who conquered the big city. No professional Republican politician wanted Willkie when the boom for him started. And it started in the N.A.M. and I witnessed its development there. The practical politicians said, No!; Wall Street and Madison Avenue said, "Yes." The ayes had it. He ran.

As usual, the practical politician fell in line because he had nowhere to go. When Willkie was defeated, he still had nowhere to go. The practical politician finds bread and meat in the "game" and he plays it accordingly. And usually, he makes no sense. As it stands now, he is flirting with Jimmy Hoffa on one side; Dave Dubinsky on the other; and Walter Reuther around the corner. That is what has happened to practical politics in an era of existentialism.

Senate Votes Down Tax Preference For Big Stock Market Investors

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The Senate of the United States met until 1 a. m. last week voting on taxes scheduled to expire at midnight last night (June 30). The debate was preceded by a secret huddle between Sen. John Carroll of Colorado and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, at which the Democratic leader emphatically agreed that the liberal Democrats should bring up for a vote certain tightening of tax loopholes and tax provisions favoring big business.

During the subsequent voting, three of these were voted down as follows:

1. Sen. Paul Douglas (Ill.) lost a move to cut the oil-depletion allowance.

2. Sen. Joe Clark (Pa.) failed to plug the loophole permitting big taxpayers to deduct yachts, private airplanes, world-series boxes, and other entertainment.

3. Sen. William Proxmire (Wis.) failed in his proposal to put those who receive dividends on the same withholding basis as wage-earners whose taxes are withheld from payrolls.

However, one important proposal by Sen. Eugene McCarthy (Minn.) won. It was to abolish the 4 per cent tax deduction given those who make their money from stock-market dividends as against those who earn it from salaries or government bonds. This so-called George-Humphrey-Amendment proposed by the recent Secretary of the Treasury in order to stimulate the stock market, was abolished.

But one day later, the joint committee of the House and Senate, with a stroke of the pen, wiped out the Senate vote. It reinstated tax favoritism for stock-market investors — despite the fact that this favoritism costs the Treasury $335,000,000 annually.

Big Business Committee

On the joint committee which unceremoniously overruled the entire Senate were: Byrd of Virginia, biggest apple grower in the world; Kerr of Oklahoma, one of the biggest oilmen in the USA; Frear of Delaware, who usually votes with the du Ponts—all Democrats; plus Bennett of Utah, former President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and Butler of Maryland, elected with Texas oil money.

On the House side were Mills of Arkansas, King of California and Forand of Rhode Island, always jealous of the right of the House of Representatives to initiate tax legislation; with Simpson of Pennsylvania and Mason of Illinois, archconservative Republicans. Only man on the joint committee who battles for small taxpayers is Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana.

This closed-door committee action is important because it follows a pattern of what has been happening all during the current 86th Congress. Both Houses will carefully debate and pass a bill on housing, unemployment compensation, taxes. Then a joint committee, usually stacked with conservatives, will completely rewrite the bills voted by the two Houses of Congress.

That's why so many Senators are up in arms; why so many newly elected members of both Houses are wondering what was the use of the landslide victory last November.

Revealing Debate

Here is a cross-section of the Senate debate before Senators voted to abolish the 4 per cent tax preference for stock-market investors.

Sen. Douglas (Ill.)—"The then Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey was sponsor of the amendment. In his testimony before the Banking and Currency Committee, of which I am a member, he represented this as being an aid to persons of low incomes, because he said those with low incomes were the primary owners of American industry.

"In the light of experience, how wrong does the Senator think Mr. Humphrey has been proven to be?"

Senator McCarthy had just shown that low-income taxpayers got almost no benefit from the 4 per cent stock dividend deduction. He agreed with Douglas that Humphrey was about 99.44 per cent wrong.

Sen. Lausche (Ohio)—"Is not preferential treatment given to those who derive their incomes from stock holdings over those who derive their income from government bonds?"

Senator McCarthy agreed.

Sen. Lausche—"In other words one who buys federal government savings bonds pays the full income tax . . . Is it not also true that the Treasury is complaining because many investors have decided it is more profitable to purchase stocks than to purchase government bonds?"

Sen. Douglas—"The Eisenhower administration, having given this tax favor to the owner of stocks, helped send up the prices of stocks. It helped stimulate the movement of capital investment into stocks. But now they say that is one reason they must increase the interest rate on bonds. Is that correct?"

Sen. McCarthy—"That is the argument they make."

Sen. Douglas—"In other words, having gotten us into the fix through the improper benefits to owners of stocks, they now want to use that fact as a leverage to increases the interest rate on bonds."

Sen. Carroll—"I see the distinguished Senator from Kentucky (Thruston Morton), who is chairman of the Republican National Committee. This action benefitting stockholders was taken in 1954. Since 1954 there has not been a Republican Congress in control of the legislative arm of the government. In the campaign of 1954 for the first time in 100 years the people of the nation turned away from a Republican President and put into office a Democratic Congress. In 1956 the Democrats held their majority. In 1958 the Democrats obtained a greater majority than ever."

The Senate then voted to repeal the Humphrey amendment giving special tax deduction to stock-market investors. One day later, the joint committee knocked the Senate's vote into a cocked hat. That's why so many Senators are sore.

James Hoffa: The Appearance And The Man

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

As a fairly important product of American society, James R. Hoffa both demands and richly repays close study. He can be studied most rewardingly on the stand of Sen. McClellan's Special Committee on Improper Labor Practices, where the grim little boss of the Teamsters' Union is currently fighting the third round of a long battle.

Hoffa in private is said to be all shrewdness and genial self-confidence. Hoffa in action on his special labor front, deploying his battalions of attendant goons, is all triumphant ruthlessness. But Hoffa on the stand is something else again, watchful, unnatural and ill at ease, yet deeply revealing and somehow symbolic.

The revelation is by no means instantaneous, to be sure. The stocky little man who enters the jammed hearing room with such aggressive cockiness does not give himself away at once. It is easier to make a quick judgment of Hoffa's lawyer, the tall, smooth-mannered Edward Bennett Williams, with his handsome face just going into looseness, than it is to judge Hoffa himself.

The evidence is there, to be sure — in the compact, fighter's body; in the abnormally short, muscular arms; in the stubby hands that seem shaped for a blunt instrument; and above all, in the hard, strong-jawed face with quick, sharp eyes that are always flickering warily from side to side as though to detect danger or seek out prey. But the evidence is at first concealed, so to say, by the carefully tailored blue suit, the matching necktie, the white shirt of such expensively transparent stuff that it has to be double-lined in front.

Watch Hoffa for a while, however, now angrily drumming on the table with his short, strong fingers, now twisting his huge ruby ring, now ostentatiously pretending boredom, but always and at all times physically gathered together, as though for the attack. You then see the judged synchrony of the human animal, he is a potentially dangerous animal. Yet this is only the beginning of the revelation of Hoffa on the stand; so what he says is far more meaningful than how he looks.

The topic in debate between him and the McClellan Committee is always essentially the same. It may be a convicted murderer who is also a high Teamsters' official. (There are several scores of known criminals in the union high command, with convictions ranging from narcotics dealing to homicide.)

It may be another Teamsters' official who used $18,500 of union funds to buy up a judge. It may be the use of union funds to defend this bribe-giver against an income tax charge, on the peculiar ground that he had embezzled his alleged income which, being embezzled was not taxable. And the unvarying topic is always whether these are good men to lead a union, and whether these are proper practices for a union to indulge in.

In this bizarre and frequently horrifying debate, Hoffa's opposition is very formidable indeed. Most men would be intimidated by this serious, and judicious Sen. McClellan and his young committee counsel, Robert Kennedy, with his air of earnestness and his fine hawk-face. But Hoffa is not intimidated. Instead he leaves his adversaries, despite all the evidence on their side to help them, almost pawing the air in angry frustration.

Partly it is Hoffa's English, far more contorted and obscure than William Faulkner's. Partly it is Hoffa's quickness, in shifting from one defense to another. Partly it is Hoffa's frequent, self-righteous use of the great watchwords of democracy. Speaking of his subordinates who have pleaded the Fifth Amendment, for instance, he grandiloquently proclaims, "I don't propose now or at any time that the invoking of an Amendment of the Constitution of the United States should become in any way or shape or form the basis for action against an individual."

But above all, the frustration of McClellan and Kennedy derives from an essentially social cause. Like the Western debate with Khrushchev, their debate with Hoffa is an inherently impossible conversation, because the standards and values of the participants, or their ideas about what is good and what is bad, are so utterly at variance. Other men of Hoffa's stripe are at least mildly embarrassed by their departures from accepted standards. Not so Hoffa, who has simply rejected the accepted standards, and has instead drawn a private value system from his own observations of those who are fittest to survive and the best methods of survival in the jungle world of the Teamsters. Hoffa, one may say, is a convinced Social Darwinian, who is rather proud of his convictions.

One must also say that Hoffa's very existence reveals our society's occasional perversion of certain of the publicly accepted values and standards. Too many people forget, after all, that Hoffa's type of unionism would prefer purchasable, corruptible unions to independent and incorruptible unions. And one must finally say that the only cure for Hoffa is wise legislation, patiently enforced without offense to the great democratic watchwords which Hoffa so grossly misuses.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

With the federal government spending some $40 billion a year for defense it is not surprising that there exists in Washington what, for lack of a better name, is called the "munitions lobby."

It is not to be confused with the old international munitions makers prior to World War I who sought to stir up tensions among nations in order to create a greater market for their wares.

The Washington lobby in question concerns efforts by individuals and companies to influence greater defense appropriations for this or that weapon, or for one of the armed services over the other two. Such activities are going on, and perhaps some individuals have become to zealous in urging their causes.

Of primary concern to the administration and the Congress is this sort of activity by retired top brass of the armed forces. It is feared that some of these officers are using their friendships with decision-making generals and admirals to urge one military project over another, and to seek research and manufacturing contracts for their companies.

Congress has been provided a long list of retired officers now receiving high pay from some companies. A proposal to bar defense contracts to any company employing an officer who has retired within five years was narrowly beaten in the House.

Such a proposal is far too drastic. However, an investigation of the situation and sound legislation is long overdue. It would clear the air, let harried procurement officers get back to their jobs, and reassure the public that their defense dollars are being well spent.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

English is becoming more difficult to understand. The art of speaking a simple declarative sentence is lost. In the armed services, some officers cannot even say "Yes." I asked a colonel one evening if I could mix a drink for him and he said: "Affirmative." He meant yes.

Each of the sciences has a language of its own. The separate fields of engineering, medicine, astronautics, atomic energy, military science and others all have a lingo which is lost to the rest of us. If we could find, and awaken, a Rip Van Winkle who had slept for the past 20 years, do you think he would understand such words and phrases as "high yield," "fallout," "mach 2," "I want out," "residual," "the summit," "reciprocal ultimata."

Actors cannot open a sentence without using the word "actually." When I hear this, I am led to believe that what was said prior to the use of this word has been untrue. We have fallen so much in love with words and their sounds that we tend to gild, exaggerate, redefine and qualify until the meanings are washed out like the color in a dollar and a half shirt.

At a recent trial, I watched a lawyer and a doctor engage in a semantic duel. "Now," said the lawyer, "in the true meaning of insanity, doctor . . ." The doctor interrupted. "That's your word." The lawyer appeared to be startled. "What's my word?"

"Insanity," said the doctor. "As far as the field of medicine is concerned, there is no such word." It was a cheap display of snobbishness. As I recall, the word insanity was dropped by psychiatrists — not because it didn't have a valid meaning, but because it was in disrepute.

There is a book just published called "A Psychiatrist Speaks." In the main, it is a collection of the writing and lectures of the late Dr. C. Charles Burlingame, who was a pretty fair debunker. It has an engaging biographical sketch by Arline Boucher Tehan. On page 119, Burlingame deals with "Semantics and Psychiatric Jargon."

". . . one is often moved," he writes, "to the uneasy conviction that laymen are not the only ones mystified and confused by the semantics of psychiatry."

Burlingame asks a hypothetical question: would dentistry have been understood by the laymen if the practitioners talked about "the viability of the pulp and the venepenetration through the dental enamel junction and the advantages under such circumstances of practicing extension for prevention?"

"Of course not. Our teeth are in better condition today because dentists have repeatedly exhorted us to 'brush your teeth three times a day' and 'See your dentist regularly.' Why not apply that lesson in our efforts toward better mental health? I have the feeling that everything we know in psychiatry is reducible to language understandable to all men of medicine and most of the laity."

The worst offenders are the military. In the reports from subordinate to superior, they will never use two words where 2,000 can be more confusing. The words selected are a patois of cliches, usable for all future reports merely by making some of the phrases run backward instead of forward.

The field of electronics has boomed so much that today only an electronics engineer can understand another one. I asked a scientist the horsepower of an intercontinental ballistic missile when it reaches outer space. He dropped his chalk on the floor and broke it.

"Why is it," he said with exaggerated politeness, "that you keep using earth principles for a terrestrial object?" I looked up at him and said "Hah?" That isn't a word, but it is more succinct than anything he said that day. He got another piece of chalk and figured the horsepower at 1,750,000. "Roughly," he said, "about the same power as Hoover Dam." I understood.

You know what? I think I'm becoming simple . . .

Ancient Remedies For Hiccups Still The Best

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The ancients recommended the following therapy for hiccups: "Hold your breath and if this fails, gargle with a little water. If hiccup still continues, tickle your nose with something and sneeze."

This advice is good today and should stop this symptom nine out of 10 times. We could recommend also drinking cold water, pulling on the tongue for two minutes, diversion of attention, and pressure on the closed eyeballs.

In intractable hiccup a drug such as chlorpromazine is useful. In a recent test on 50 individuals who were given this product all but four responded.

Hiccup is caused by sudden spasm of the diaphragm. This induces a violent rush of air into the lungs, which is halted by a sudden narrowing of the larynx. The hic takes place at the moment when the rush of air is stopped abruptly.

Anything that irritates the phrenic nerve leading to the diaphragm is capable of throwing the diaphragm into spasm. This nerve has many connections with other structures. As a result, the possible origins of hiccup are numerous, varying from a brain disorder to distention of the stomach.

Hiccup usually is merely an annoyance. Now and then it is serious, especially when it develops in a critically ill person with a heart attack or after a serious abdominal operation. It is tiring, interferes with sleep, and unless stopped gradually saps the strength of the victim.

Hiccup serves no useful purpose except perhaps as an aid to digestion in babies. Contraction of the diaphragm forces the stomach contents into the intestine. So many tykes are bothered along this line that it may be considered normal at this age.

TOMORROW: Booze fighters.

ADHESIONS STAY PUT

M. L. writes: I have had aches and pains throughout my body since an operation some months ago. Do you think adhesions have t veled through my system?

REPLY

Adhesions are made up of scar tissue and they are confined to the site of the operation. There is a possibility that your aches and pains stem from muscle weakness incurred during the convalescent period of inactivity following surgery. As you get about more, muscle tone ought to return.

SLOW ERUPTION

Mrs. E. writes: My grandchild lost her baby teeth and we can see the second teeth in the gums but they are slow in coming through. Is there any way to help speed up the process? She has trouble eating because of the sore gums.

REPLY

Let nature take its course. The more the child chews, the quicker the teeth will sprout.

DON'T COURT TROUBLE

Mrs. N. writes: Is it wise to expose children purposely to all the contagious diseases?

REPLY

No, because there always is a possibility that complications might develop. If this happened the parents would blame themselves for inducing the disease. German measles in young girls is a possible exception.

CLAMS FOR CHILDREN

Mrs. T. writes: My baby and my three-year-old love raw clams. Is there any hazard here?

REPLY

No, provided the clams are fresh and come from water that is tpyhoid free. The baby is a bit young for adult food but we can't be too critical if she thrives on it.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Timid little woman from Des Moines, whenever she checks into a strange hotel, always locates the fire escape the moment the bellboy has deposited the bags in her room. One day she couldn't find any such exit, and when she had reached the last door at the end of the hall, jerked it open to see where it led. There, majestically seated in the bathtub was a red-faced Englishman with a walrus mustache.

"Pardon me!" exclaimed the timid little woman, flustered beyond belief. "I'm trying to find the fire escape."

She had gotten back as far as the door to her own room, when the Englishman, dripping wet and with a towel ineffectively draped around his middle, came paddling up behind her.

"Where," he gasped, "where is the fire?"

The Name Changes, But Fight Goes On

After nearly three-quarters of a century, one of the best established of political leopards is undertaking to change its spots. As of today, July 1, the redoubtable American Tariff League becomes the Trade Relations Council of the United States.

The change, no doubt, is partly perfumery. Over the years, the word "tariff" has taken on an archaic, faintly disagreeable air, redolent of celluloid collars. It conjures up the titanic clashes between Free Trade and Protectionism which used to rock Congress to its heels every few years.

But the renaming also reflects shifting realities. The Great Issues have gone lower case. Advocates of free trade and tariff protection still go at it hammer and tongs, but the battlefield has shifted.

Today, as League President Ralph A. Butland conceded recently, "tariffs as such are a joke" (though, of course, a notably unfunny one both to advocates and condemners). President Eisenhower's Commission on Foreign Economic Policy estimated in 1954 that eliminating all U. S. tariffs in one fell swoop would displace no more than 400,000 American workers and probably fewer than 200,000.

The real fence against foreign competition now is the import quota system—this and the political horsetrading in which the White House must engage to win periodic renewals of the reciprocal trade program. For example, insiders say President Eisenhower was forced to barter quotas on lead and zinc in exchange for votes to put over the 1958 extension.

These quotas may have serious effects on the economies of friendly countries. And they may be illogical from a strictly economic view. (Harvard economist Sumner Slichter thinks eliminating all restrictions on imports would be an effective brake on inflation.) But they are nonetheless attractive to companies bucking cheap foreign imports and to workmen whose jobs might otherwise disappear. So Tariff League or Trade Relations Council, the battle still is joined.

Practical Politics

Politics is the art of the control of people by organized means. Each country has its own techniques. Each people has its own tradition. For instance, from 1912 to 1927, China attempted to be a democratic republic modelled after the United States. All these efforts failed because they were not within the traditions of the Chinese people. Similarly, Great Britain, as much a republic as the United States, maintains the institution of royalty at great cost because it is essential to the nature of British society.

The so-called practical politician, in the United States, is a person who believes that he knows how to manipulate the organized effort to gain control of the mechanics of elections. To use his colloquialism, he knows how to ring door-bells. Very often, however, such a person does not know how to ring door-bells. Very often, however, such a person does not know why he belongs to a particular party; he has no idea as to what that party stands for; he has no basic objection to the opposing party. He knows the manoeuvres of "getting out the vote." As he is more concerned with techniques than with substance, even his opponents can avoid quarrelling with him.

Look the world over and most "practical politicians" are just such persons and although they might on occasion help to win elections, they add little benefit to the nation within which they operate.

In the United States, the practical politician is rapidly being defeated by radio and television. He is like the horse in the cavalry—out-moded. Most of our young people are better informed about the affairs of the day than the practical politician. They look upon those who show up near election time as fossils emerging once every two years to tell them something they do not believe.

In the actual planning of campaigns, the so-called practical politician has little or nothing to say. Essential campaign planning is being done today by advertising men and public relations counsel who write the speeches for candidates and project their personalities through several mechanical devices. In many instances, the pollsters decide what it is safe to say and what will bring opprobrium and failure to the candidates, even on the lowest level.

Those who plan political campaigns are no longer so concerned with getting the vote out. That is easy. Each special pressure group gets out its own vote. The real task of organized politics is to find a candidate who can be elected and to find a platform that is sufficiently meaningless not to be a handicap and sufficiently meaningful to give particular pressure groups the impression that they have won the day.

This is the way politics is operated in the United States. It is true that many old-timers have what they call practical solutions to political problems but they never can explain why their candidates never win. The Wendell Willkie candidacy is a case in point. Willkie was a product of the desire of the National Association of Manufacturers to have a candidate who believed in private enterprise and could win.

He had been a Socialist, became a member of Tammany Hall and a local committeeman and was in effect, the top publicist for an electric power combine. He was a good speaker, a forceful personality, a farm boy who conquered the big city. No professional Republican politician wanted Willkie when the boom for him started. And it started in the N.A.M. and I witnessed its development there. The practical politicians said, No!; Wall Street and Madison Avenue said, "Yes." The ayes had it. He ran.

As usual, the practical politician fell in line because he had nowhere to go. When Willkie was defeated, he still had nowhere to go. The practical politician finds bread and meat in the "game" and he plays it accordingly. And usually, he makes no sense. As it stands now, he is flirting with Jimmy Hoffa on one side; Dave Dubinsky on the other; and Walter Reuther around the corner. That is what has happened to practical politics in an era of existentialism.

Senate Votes Down Tax Preference For Big Stock Market Investors

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The Senate of the United States met until 1 a. m. last week voting on taxes scheduled to expire at midnight last night (June 30). The debate was preceded by a secret huddle between Sen. John Carroll of Colorado and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, at which the Democratic leader emphatically agreed that the liberal Democrats should bring up for a vote certain tightening of tax loopholes and tax provisions favoring big business.

During the subsequent voting, three of these were voted down as follows:

1. Sen. Paul Douglas (Ill.) lost a move to cut the oil-depletion allowance.

2. Sen. Joe Clark (Pa.) failed to plug the loophole permitting big taxpayers to deduct yachts, private airplanes, world-series boxes, and other entertainment.

3. Sen. William Proxmire (Wis.) failed in his proposal to put those who receive dividends on the same withholding basis as wage-earners whose taxes are withheld from payrolls.

However, one important proposal by Sen. Eugene McCarthy (Minn.) won. It was to abolish the 4 per cent tax deduction given those who make their money from stock-market dividends as against those who earn it from salaries or government bonds. This so-called George-Humphrey-Amendment proposed by the recent Secretary of the Treasury in order to stimulate the stock market, was abolished.

But one day later, the joint committee of the House and Senate, with a stroke of the pen, wiped out the Senate vote. It reinstated tax favoritism for stock-market investors — despite the fact that this favoritism costs the Treasury $335,000,000 annually.

Big Business Committee

On the joint committee which unceremoniously overruled the entire Senate were: Byrd of Virginia, biggest apple grower in the world; Kerr of Oklahoma, one of the biggest oilmen in the USA; Frear of Delaware, who usually votes with the du Ponts—all Democrats; plus Bennett of Utah, former President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and Butler of Maryland, elected with Texas oil money.

On the House side were Mills of Arkansas, King of California and Forand of Rhode Island, always jealous of the right of the House of Representatives to initiate tax legislation; with Simpson of Pennsylvania and Mason of Illinois, archconservative Republicans. Only man on the joint committee who battles for small taxpayers is Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana.

This closed-door committee action is important because it follows a pattern of what has been happening all during the current 86th Congress. Both Houses will carefully debate and pass a bill on housing, unemployment compensation, taxes. Then a joint committee, usually stacked with conservatives, will completely rewrite the bills voted by the two Houses of Congress.

That's why so many Senators are up in arms; why so many newly elected members of both Houses are wondering what was the use of the landslide victory last November.

Revealing Debate

Here is a cross-section of the Senate debate before Senators voted to abolish the 4 per cent tax preference for stock-market investors.

Sen. Douglas (Ill.)—"The then Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey was sponsor of the amendment. In his testimony before the Banking and Currency Committee, of which I am a member, he represented this as being an aid to persons of low incomes, because he said those with low incomes were the primary owners of American industry.

"In the light of experience, how wrong does the Senator think Mr. Humphrey has been proven to be?"

Senator McCarthy had just shown that low-income taxpayers got almost no benefit from the 4 per cent stock dividend deduction. He agreed with Douglas that Humphrey was about 99.44 per cent wrong.

Sen. Lausche (Ohio)—"Is not preferential treatment given to those who derive their incomes from stock holdings over those who derive their income from government bonds?"

Senator McCarthy agreed.

Sen. Lausche—"In other words one who buys federal government savings bonds pays the full income tax . . . Is it not also true that the Treasury is complaining because many investors have decided it is more profitable to purchase stocks than to purchase government bonds?"

Sen. Douglas—"The Eisenhower administration, having given this tax favor to the owner of stocks, helped send up the prices of stocks. It helped stimulate the movement of capital investment into stocks. But now they say that is one reason they must increase the interest rate on bonds. Is that correct?"

Sen. McCarthy—"That is the argument they make."

Sen. Douglas—"In other words, having gotten us into the fix through the improper benefits to owners of stocks, they now want to use that fact as a leverage to increases the interest rate on bonds."

Sen. Carroll—"I see the distinguished Senator from Kentucky (Thruston Morton), who is chairman of the Republican National Committee. This action benefitting stockholders was taken in 1954. Since 1954 there has not been a Republican Congress in control of the legislative arm of the government. In the campaign of 1954 for the first time in 100 years the people of the nation turned away from a Republican President and put into office a Democratic Congress. In 1956 the Democrats held their majority. In 1958 the Democrats obtained a greater majority than ever."

The Senate then voted to repeal the Humphrey amendment giving special tax deduction to stock-market investors. One day later, the joint committee knocked the Senate's vote into a cocked hat. That's why so many Senators are sore.

James Hoffa: The Appearance And The Man

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

As a fairly important product of American society, James R. Hoffa both demands and richly repays close study. He can be studied most rewardingly on the stand of Sen. McClellan's Special Committee on Improper Labor Practices, where the grim little boss of the Teamsters' Union is currently fighting the third round of a long battle.

Hoffa in private is said to be all shrewdness and genial self-confidence. Hoffa in action on his special labor front, deploying his battalions of attendant goons, is all triumphant ruthlessness. But Hoffa on the stand is something else again, watchful, unnatural and ill at ease, yet deeply revealing and somehow symbolic.

The revelation is by no means instantaneous, to be sure. The stocky little man who enters the jammed hearing room with such aggressive cockiness does not give himself away at once. It is easier to make a quick judgment of Hoffa's lawyer, the tall, smooth-mannered Edward Bennett Williams, with his handsome face just going into looseness, than it is to judge Hoffa himself.

The evidence is there, to be sure — in the compact, fighter's body; in the abnormally short, muscular arms; in the stubby hands that seem shaped for a blunt instrument; and above all, in the hard, strong-jawed face with quick, sharp eyes that are always flickering warily from side to side as though to detect danger or seek out prey. But the evidence is at first concealed, so to say, by the carefully tailored blue suit, the matching necktie, the white shirt of such expensively transparent stuff that it has to be double-lined in front.

Watch Hoffa for a while, however, now angrily drumming on the table with his short, strong fingers, now twisting his huge ruby ring, now ostentatiously pretending boredom, but always and at all times physically gathered together, as though for the attack. You then see the judged synchrony of the human animal, he is a potentially dangerous animal. Yet this is only the beginning of the revelation of Hoffa on the stand; so what he says is far more meaningful than how he looks.

The topic in debate between him and the McClellan Committee is always essentially the same. It may be a convicted murderer who is also a high Teamsters' official. (There are several scores of known criminals in the union high command, with convictions ranging from narcotics dealing to homicide.)

It may be another Teamsters' official who used $18,500 of union funds to buy up a judge. It may be the use of union funds to defend this bribe-giver against an income tax charge, on the peculiar ground that he had embezzled his alleged income which, being embezzled was not taxable. And the unvarying topic is always whether these are good men to lead a union, and whether these are proper practices for a union to indulge in.

In this bizarre and frequently horrifying debate, Hoffa's opposition is very formidable indeed. Most men would be intimidated by this serious, and judicious Sen. McClellan and his young committee counsel, Robert Kennedy, with his air of earnestness and his fine hawk-face. But Hoffa is not intimidated. Instead he leaves his adversaries, despite all the evidence on their side to help them, almost pawing the air in angry frustration.

Partly it is Hoffa's English, far more contorted and obscure than William Faulkner's. Partly it is Hoffa's quickness, in shifting from one defense to another. Partly it is Hoffa's frequent, self-righteous use of the great watchwords of democracy. Speaking of his subordinates who have pleaded the Fifth Amendment, for instance, he grandiloquently proclaims, "I don't propose now or at any time that the invoking of an Amendment of the Constitution of the United States should become in any way or shape or form the basis for action against an individual."

But above all, the frustration of McClellan and Kennedy derives from an essentially social cause. Like the Western debate with Khrushchev, their debate with Hoffa is an inherently impossible conversation, because the standards and values of the participants, or their ideas about what is good and what is bad, are so utterly at variance. Other men of Hoffa's stripe are at least mildly embarrassed by their departures from accepted standards. Not so Hoffa, who has simply rejected the accepted standards, and has instead drawn a private value system from his own observations of those who are fittest to survive and the best methods of survival in the jungle world of the Teamsters. Hoffa, one may say, is a convinced Social Darwinian, who is rather proud of his convictions.

One must also say that Hoffa's very existence reveals our society's occasional perversion of certain of the publicly accepted values and standards. Too many people forget, after all, that Hoffa's type of unionism would prefer purchasable, corruptible unions to independent and incorruptible unions. And one must finally say that the only cure for Hoffa is wise legislation, patiently enforced without offense to the great democratic watchwords which Hoffa so grossly misuses.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

With the federal government spending some $40 billion a year for defense it is not surprising that there exists in Washington what, for lack of a better name, is called the "munitions lobby."

It is not to be confused with the old international munitions makers prior to World War I who sought to stir up tensions among nations in order to create a greater market for their wares.

The Washington lobby in question concerns efforts by individuals and companies to influence greater defense appropriations for this or that weapon, or for one of the armed services over the other two. Such activities are going on, and perhaps some individuals have become to zealous in urging their causes.

Of primary concern to the administration and the Congress is this sort of activity by retired top brass of the armed forces. It is feared that some of these officers are using their friendships with decision-making generals and admirals to urge one military project over another, and to seek research and manufacturing contracts for their companies.

Congress has been provided a long list of retired officers now receiving high pay from some companies. A proposal to bar defense contracts to any company employing an officer who has retired within five years was narrowly beaten in the House.

Such a proposal is far too drastic. However, an investigation of the situation and sound legislation is long overdue. It would clear the air, let harried procurement officers get back to their jobs, and reassure the public that their defense dollars are being well spent.

Ancient Remedies For Hiccups Still The Best

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The ancients recommended the following therapy for hiccups: "Hold your breath and if this fails, gargle with a little water. If hiccup still continues, tickle your nose with something and sneeze."

This advice is good today and should stop this symptom nine out of 10 times. We could recommend also drinking cold water, pulling on the tongue for two minutes, diversion of attention, and pressure on the closed eyeballs.

In intractable hiccup a drug such as chlorpromazine is useful. In a recent test on 50 individuals who were given this product all but four responded.

Hiccup is caused by sudden spasm of the diaphragm. This induces a violent rush of air into the lungs, which is halted by a sudden narrowing of the larynx. The hic takes place at the moment when the rush of air is stopped abruptly.

Anything that irritates the phrenic nerve leading to the diaphragm is capable of throwing the diaphragm into spasm. This nerve has many connections with other structures. As a result, the possible origins of hiccup are numerous, varying from a brain disorder to distention of the stomach.

Hiccup usually is merely an annoyance. Now and then it is serious, especially when it develops in a critically ill person with a heart attack or after a serious abdominal operation. It is tiring, interferes with sleep, and unless stopped gradually saps the strength of the victim.

Hiccup serves no useful purpose except perhaps as an aid to digestion in babies. Contraction of the diaphragm forces the stomach contents into the intestine. So many tykes are bothered along this line that it may be considered normal at this age.

TOMORROW: Booze fighters.

ADHESIONS STAY PUT

M. L. writes: I have had aches and pains throughout my body since an operation some months ago. Do you think adhesions have t veled through my system?

REPLY

Adhesions are made up of scar tissue and they are confined to the site of the operation. There is a possibility that your aches and pains stem from muscle weakness incurred during the convalescent period of inactivity following surgery. As you get about more, muscle tone ought to return.

SLOW ERUPTION

Mrs. E. writes: My grandchild lost her baby teeth and we can see the second teeth in the gums but they are slow in coming through. Is there any way to help speed up the process? She has trouble eating because of the sore gums.

REPLY

Let nature take its course. The more the child chews, the quicker the teeth will sprout.

DON'T COURT TROUBLE

Mrs. N. writes: Is it wise to expose children purposely to all the contagious diseases?

REPLY

No, because there always is a possibility that complications might develop. If this happened the parents would blame themselves for inducing the disease. German measles in young girls is a possible exception.

CLAMS FOR CHILDREN

Mrs. T. writes: My baby and my three-year-old love raw clams. Is there any hazard here?

REPLY

No, provided the clams are fresh and come from water that is tpyhoid free. The baby is a bit young for adult food but we can't be too critical if she thrives on it.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Timid little woman from Des Moines, whenever she checks into a strange hotel, always locates the fire escape the moment the bellboy has deposited the bags in her room. One day she couldn't find any such exit, and when she had reached the last door at the end of the hall, jerked it open to see where it led. There, majestically seated in the bathtub was a red-faced Englishman with a walrus mustache.

"Pardon me!" exclaimed the timid little woman, flustered beyond belief. "I'm trying to find the fire escape."

She had gotten back as far as the door to her own room, when the Englishman, dripping wet and with a towel ineffectively draped around his middle, came paddling up behind her.

"Where," he gasped, "where is the fire?"

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

English is becoming more difficult to understand. The art of speaking a simple declarative sentence is lost. In the armed services, some officers cannot even say "Yes." I asked a colonel one evening if I could mix a drink for him and he said: "Affirmative." He meant yes.

Each of the sciences has a language of its own. The separate fields of engineering, medicine, astronautics, atomic energy, military science and others all have a lingo which is lost to the rest of us. If we could find, and awaken, a Rip Van Winkle who had slept for the past 20 years, do you think he would understand such words and phrases as "high yield," "fallout," "mach 2," "I want out," "residual," "the summit," "reciprocal ultimata."

Actors cannot open a sentence without using the word "actually." When I hear this, I am led to believe that what was said prior to the use of this word has been untrue. We have fallen so much in love with words and their sounds that we tend to gild, exaggerate, redefine and qualify until the meanings are washed out like the color in a dollar and a half shirt.

At a recent trial, I watched a lawyer and a doctor engage in a semantic duel. "Now," said the lawyer, "in the true meaning of insanity, doctor . . ." The doctor interrupted. "That's your word." The lawyer appeared to be startled. "What's my word?"

"Insanity," said the doctor. "As far as the field of medicine is concerned, there is no such word." It was a cheap display of snobbishness. As I recall, the word insanity was dropped by psychiatrists — not because it didn't have a valid meaning, but because it was in disrepute.

There is a book just published called "A Psychiatrist Speaks." In the main, it is a collection of the writing and lectures of the late Dr. C. Charles Burlingame, who was a pretty fair debunker. It has an engaging biographical sketch by Arline Boucher Tehan. On page 119, Burlingame deals with "Semantics and Psychiatric Jargon."

". . . one is often moved," he writes, "to the uneasy conviction that laymen are not the only ones mystified and confused by the semantics of psychiatry."

Burlingame asks a hypothetical question: would dentistry have been understood by the laymen if the practitioners talked about "the viability of the pulp and the venepenetration through the dental enamel junction and the advantages under such circumstances of practicing extension for prevention?"

"Of course not. Our teeth are in better condition today because dentists have repeatedly exhorted us to 'brush your teeth three times a day' and 'See your dentist regularly.' Why not apply that lesson in our efforts toward better mental health? I have the feeling that everything we know in psychiatry is reducible to language understandable to all men of medicine and most of the laity."

The worst offenders are the military. In the reports from subordinate to superior, they will never use two words where 2,000 can be more confusing. The words selected are a patois of cliches, usable for all future reports merely by making some of the phrases run backward instead of forward.

The field of electronics has boomed so much that today only an electronics engineer can understand another one. I asked a scientist the horsepower of an intercontinental ballistic missile when it reaches outer space. He dropped his chalk on the floor and broke it.

"Why is it," he said with exaggerated politeness, "that you keep using earth principles for a terrestrial object?" I looked up at him and said "Hah?" That isn't a word, but it is more succinct than anything he said that day. He got another piece of chalk and figured the horsepower at 1,750,000. "Roughly," he said, "about the same power as Hoover Dam." I understood.

You know what? I think I'm becoming simple . . .

Oakland Facing Water Shortage

OAKLAND—Citizens of Oakland have been notified by the Mayor and Council to conserve the water supply until further notice.

Council banned car washing, the sprinkling of lawns and any unnecessary use of water.

Henry W. McComas, chairman of the water committee, said the supply is adequate at this time and that the order was merely a precautionary measure. There has been only slight rainfall in the area in recent weeks, and a prolonged drought could cause a shortage, he pointed out.

Garrett Lions Install Officers

Rowlesburg Airman Wins High Honor

ROWLESBURG — Staff Sgt. Herbert Haynes Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wheeler, recently was awarded the nation's highest peacetime award, the Soldier's Medal, during a ceremony at Fisher Air Force Base, N.C., for heroism.

Risking his life last summer, Sgt. Wheeler swam from shore to aid Miss Nancy Cox who was being swept away by a rip-tide. After a struggle, he managed to swim to a nearby piling with the young lady in tow. Holding her behind him with one hand, he grasped the piling with the other hand and his legs and shielded her from barnacles until they could be lifted to the pier. He suffered shock, exhaustion and lacerations over his entire body.

Sgt. Wheeler, descendant of a pioneer family here, is married to the former Miss Mary Ann Sebrell. They reside at Kure Beach, N.C.

Oakland Facing Water Shortage

OAKLAND—Citizens of Oakland have been notified by the Mayor and Council to conserve the water supply until further notice.

Council banned car washing, the sprinkling of lawns and any unnecessary use of water.

Henry W. McComas, chairman of the water committee, said the supply is adequate at this time and that the order was merely a precautionary measure. There has been only slight rainfall in the area in recent weeks, and a prolonged drought could cause a shortage, he pointed out.

Garrett Lions Install Officers

OAKLAND—Guy William Hinebaugh was installed as president of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club at a recent meeting in the William-James Hotel. Installing officer was E. Leister Mobley, international counsellor, of Hagerstown, assisted by Arthur Moats, of Half-Way, Md.

Other officers installed were Delbert Gnegy, first vice president; Robert W. Stemple, second vice president; James McHenry, third vice president; Richard L. Davis, secretary-treasurer; James H. Nordeck, lion tamer and Jay Bell, tail twister. Named to the board of directors were Irvin R. Rudy Jr., Kenneth Lawton, Lewis R. Jones and Howard D. Naylor.

Officers will assume their duties Wednesday.

Some 60 persons attended the meeting and heard reports of various district committees and representatives from sponsoring institutions of the several Scout troops, Cub Packs and Explorer posts in Deep Creek District.

M. S. Brookhart was chairman of the dinner committee and served as master of ceremonies. Gerald Minnich and Ralph Fauber assisted in the dinner arrangements.

Charles Newman, field Scout executive, presented scouter's keys to Johns and Frank McDaniel for their work in scouting. Johns is advisor to Explorer Post 31, while McDaniel is leader of the Cub Pack, both at Oakland.

Colavito Hits 23rd Home Run

Power Also Belts 4-Bagger; McLish Defeats Pierce

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Home runs by Vic Power and Rocky Colavito plus Cal McLish's superb pitching enabled the Cleveland Indians to beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-1, Tuesday night and increase their American League lead to two games.

Power's homer, an inside - the-park liner that got past Harry Simpson in right, and Colavito's 23rd of the year were all the support McLish needed for his ninth victory.

McLish allowed only four hits and one after the third inning when the White Sox scored an unearned run on shortstop Woodie Held's error.

The loser was Billy Pierce, whose record dropped to 8-9.

Power's blow came in the third with McLish on base. Simpson slipped to the ground trying for a shoestring catch and the ball rolled to the fence. Power beat the relay by several steps.

Colavito's homer carried into left field stands in the sixth.

Jim Landis scored the run after Held fumbled his grounder to open the third. Landis moved to second on Pierce's sacrifice and scored on Luis Aparico's single.

McLish, who didn't walk a man, retired 14 consecutive batters between the third inning and Landis' single in the eighth.

It was his fourth straight victory, all complete games.

Maas, Ditmar Hold Orioles To Five Hits

Latter Bags 7th; Birds' Lone Tally Woodling's Homer

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The New York Yankees caught up with old tormentor Hoyt Wilhelm in a three-run third inning and snapped their three-game losing streak by beating the Baltimore Orioles, 4-1, Tuesday night.

The Yankees bunched four of their eight singles off Wilhelm in a three-run third to hand him his third loss in 12 decisions as Duke Maas and Art Ditmar combined to hold the Orioles to five scattered hits. Ditmar, who relieved Maas in the fifth, picked up his seventh win against five losses.

Wilhelm, who usually has good control, started his own downfall when he walked Maas with one out in the fourth. Hank Bauer and Bobby Richardson followed with successive singles for one run and after Bill Skowron beat out an infield hit to load the bases, Yogi Berra sliced a single to left for two runs.

The Yankees added their other tally in the fifth on Bauer's leadoff single, Richardson's sacrifice and a single by Marv Throneberry, who had taken over at first for Skowron.

The Orioles' only run came in the fourth on Gene Woodling's 10th home run into the right field seats.

The victory put the Yankees only one-half game behind the third-place Orioles, but still four games in back of the Cleveland Indians, who beat the White Sox Tuesday night.

Senators Top Red Sox, 6-1

Ramos Posts 8th Victory Of Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington combination of Pedro Ramos and Vice President Richard Nixon again exercised its hex Tuesday night when the Senators defeated the Boston Red Sox, 6-1.

Ramos scored his eighth victory, half of them coming at Boston's expense. He has now beaten the Red Sox 17 times in his career and has lost 10.

Nixon hasn't seen the Senators lose in five visits to Griffith Stadium this year.

The Senators got the advantage of four unearned runs in the second inning when they chased starter Tom Brewer. Mike Fornieles and Leo Kiely followed to the mound.

Washington got 10 hits, including Faye Throneberry's sixth circuit clout of the year. Pete Runnels got two of Boston's six hits and boosted his average to .354.

Boston's only run came in the fourth on successive singles by Runnels, Ted Williams and Vic Wertz.

"Hap" Kennell's home run in the bottom of the 7th broke a 6-6 tie and gave Burkey's the decision over Maple Inn.

Curt Hosselrode posted his eighth win of the season. He has lost four games.

Kenny Brant hit a three-bagger for the losers.

Jerry O'Baker hurled Cumberland Cement to victory over Fossilville in the game at Wellersburg. The loss was Fossilville's fourth in a row.

Reds Get 14 Hits, Bob Purkey Scores

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds rapped Lew Burdette hard for the second time this season, collecting 14 hits, three of them home runs, to hand the Milwaukee Braves an 8-5 licking Tuesday night.

Gus Bell, Jerry Lynch and Vada Pinson each hit homers as the Reds, getting a nifty scoreless four inning relief stint from Orlando Pena, went one up on the Braves in the season series after nine games.

Pena's relief stint gave Red right hander Bob Purkey his seventh victory against nine losses. The defeat was Burdette's sixth against seventh against 11 victories.

A three-run homer by Eddie Mathews, his 24th, and a two-run homer by Joe Adcock, both off Purkey, accounted for the Braves runs.

Bell socked a three-run homer and Pinson a two-run homer for the Reds. Johnny Temple, with four hits, shared hitting honors.

Pirates Beat Phils On Home Run By Groat

Haddix Victor, 4-3, On Blast In Ninth

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Shortstop Dick Groat hit his fifth home run of the season with one out in the ninth inning to nail down a 4-3 victory by the Pittsburgh Pirates over the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night.

Groat lined his game - winning drive off Robin Roberts to make Harvey Haddix the winner but old reliable Elroy Face came in during the Phils' half of the ninth to save the game.

Haddix (5-6) had pitched hitless ball from the fifth until Dave Philley singled with one out in the ninth. Face came in and struck out pinch-hitter Harry Anderson. He walked Gene Freese but then got pinch-hitter Ed Bouchee on a pop foul to end the game.

Groat's homer was the 16th given up by Roberts this season and tagged him with his seventh loss.

Both starting pitchers had rocky early innings but then settled into a tight pitching duel after rain delayed the game an hour and 18 minutes between the second and third innings.

Smoky Burgess doubled in the first Pirate run in the opening inning and the Phils tied it in their half on Joe Koppe's triple and a sacrifice fly. Three singles gave Pittsburgh another run in the second and the Phils tied it again in their half when Valmy Thomas singled home a run.

Burgess opened the third with his second double and then scored to put the Pirates ahead after the long rain delay but Freese hit his eighth homer in the fourth to make it a 3-3 game which lasted until Groat and Face won it in the ninth.

Lary Masters Athletics, 4-0

Tigers' Maxwell Hits 17th Homer

DETROIT (UPI) — Frank Lary fired a five-hitter Tuesday night to blank the Kansas City Athletics, 4-0, and post only the second shutout by a Detroit Tigers pitcher this season.

Lary struck out seven batters and didn't issue a base on balls. Only one Kansas City runner advanced beyond second base.

Charlie Maxwell provided Lary with the only run he needed for his ninth victory of the year against four defeats by lining his 17th home run of the season off Kansas City starter Rip Coleman in the first inning.

Coleman was charged with his seventh setback against two victories.

Lary permitted a single to Frank House in the second, a double to Jerry Lumpe in the third and a single to Bob Cerv in the fourth.

The Athletics threatened briefly in the ninth when Lumpe singled to right and Dick Williams beat out an infield hit. But Lary disposed of the next three batters to preserve his shutout.

The only other scoreless effort by a Detroit pitcher this season was Don Mossi's whitewash of the Chicago White Sox last month.

Dapper Phillies And Yankees, Dan Tigers Triumph

The Phillies took over sole possession of first place in the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little League by handing the Cardinals their first defeat of the season yesterday at Post Field by the score of 9-1.

The victory was the third in a row without a loss for the Phils. The Cards also were 2-0 before yesterday's contest.

Olin Perknis, Phillies' pitcher, yielded only three hits and struck out ten. Pacing the winners at the plate were Jimmy Mertens with a homer and three singles, Bruce Peck with a homer and triple and Perkins with two singles. A triple by Price was among the Cards' three hits.

Howard Reynolds of the Phils and Gary Morgan of the Cards excelled in the field.

In another Dapper Division game, the Yankees had to play an extra inning to defeat the Giants at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 9-8. Carl Phillips' double scored Ricky Davis with the deciding tally in the 7th frame.

Bill Lueck had a perfect day at bat for the Yankees, connecting for two homers and a double in three official trips. Seeders, Jackson and Wilson had two hits each for the Giants.

The Tigers scored 14 runs in the first inning and walloped the Braves in a Dan Division game at East Side by the score of 22-9. The win gave the Tigers a 3-0 record and tied them with the Athletics for first place.

Zembower garnered three hits for the Tigers, including a circuit blast. Hal Dougherty also socked a homer and Bobby Powell, Tommy Keyser and D. Cleggett had two safeties each. Arthur Witt and Bill Van Ormer homered for the Braves. The scores:

Colavito Hits 23rd Home Run

Power Also Belts 4-Bagger; McLish Defeats Pierce

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Home runs by Vic Power and Rocky Colavito plus Cal McLish's superb pitching enabled the Cleveland Indians to beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-1, Tuesday night and increase their American League lead to two games.

Power's homer, an inside - the-park liner that got past Harry Simpson in right, and Colavito's 23rd of the year were all the support McLish needed for his ninth victory.

McLish allowed only four hits and one after the third inning when the White Sox scored an unearned run on shortstop Woodie Held's error.

The loser was Billy Pierce, whose record dropped to 8-9.

Power's blow came in the third with McLish on base. Simpson slipped to the ground trying for a shoestring catch and the ball rolled to the fence. Power beat the relay by several steps.

Colavito's homer carried into left field stands in the sixth.

Jim Landis scored the run after Held fumbled his grounder to open the third. Landis moved to second on Pierce's sacrifice and scored on Luis Aparico's single.

McLish, who didn't walk a man, retired 14 consecutive batters between the third inning and Landis' single in the eighth.

It was his fourth straight victory, all complete games.

Maas, Ditmar Hold Orioles To Five Hits

Latter Bags 7th; Birds' Lone Tally Woodling's Homer

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The New York Yankees caught up with old tormentor Hoyt Wilhelm in a three-run third inning and snapped their three-game losing streak by beating the Baltimore Orioles, 4-1, Tuesday night.

The Yankees bunched four of their eight singles off Wilhelm in a three-run third to hand him his third loss in 12 decisions as Duke Maas and Art Ditmar combined to hold the Orioles to five scattered hits. Ditmar, who relieved Maas in the fifth, picked up his seventh win against five losses.

Wilhelm, who usually has good control, started his own downfall when he walked Maas with one out in the fourth. Hank Bauer and Bobby Richardson followed with successive singles for one run and after Bill Skowron beat out an infield hit to load the bases, Yogi Berra sliced a single to left for two runs.

The Yankees added their other tally in the fifth on Bauer's leadoff single, Richardson's sacrifice and a single by Marv Throneberry, who had taken over at first for Skowron.

The Orioles' only run came in the fourth on Gene Woodling's 10th home run into the right field seats.

The victory put the Yankees only one-half game behind the third-place Orioles, but still four games in back of the Cleveland Indians, who beat the White Sox Tuesday night.

Ramos Posts 8th Victory Of Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington combination of Pedro Ramos and Vice President Richard Nixon again exercised its hex Tuesday night when the Senators defeated the Boston Red Sox, 6-1.

Ramos scored his eighth victory, half of them coming at Boston's expense. He has now beaten the Red Sox 17 times in his career and has lost 10.

Nixon hasn't seen the Senators lose in five visits to Griffith Stadium this year.

The Senators got the advantage of four unearned runs in the second inning when they chased starter Tom Brewer. Mike Fornieles and Leo Kiely followed to the mound.

Washington got 10 hits, including Faye Throneberry's sixth circuit clout of the year. Pete Runnels got two of Boston's six hits and boosted his average to .354.

Boston's only run came in the fourth on successive singles by Runnels, Ted Williams and Vic Wertz.

Cincy Clouts Burdette For 8-5 Triumph

Reds Get 14 Hits, Bob Purkey Scores

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds rapped Lew Burdette hard for the second time this season, collecting 14 hits, three of them home runs, to hand the Milwaukee Braves an 8-5 licking Tuesday night.

Gus Bell, Jerry Lynch and Vada Pinson each hit homers as the Reds, getting a nifty scoreless four inning relief stint from Orlando Pena, went one up on the Braves in the season series after nine games.

Pena's relief stint gave Red right hander Bob Purkey his seventh victory against nine losses. The defeat was Burdette's sixth against seventh against 11 victories.

A three-run homer by Eddie Mathews, his 24th, and a two-run homer by Joe Adcock, both off Purkey, accounted for the Braves runs.

Bell socked a three-run homer and Pinson a two-run homer for the Reds. Johnny Temple, with four hits, shared hitting honors.

Pirates Beat Phils On Home Run By Groat

Haddix Victor, 4-3, On Blast In Ninth

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Shortstop Dick Groat hit his fifth home run of the season with one out in the ninth inning to nail down a 4-3 victory by the Pittsburgh Pirates over the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night.

Groat lined his game - winning drive off Robin Roberts to make Harvey Haddix the winner but old reliable Elroy Face came in during the Phils' half of the ninth to save the game.

Haddix (5-6) had pitched hitless ball from the fifth until Dave Philley singled with one out in the ninth. Face came in and struck out pinch-hitter Harry Anderson. He walked Gene Freese but then got pinch-hitter Ed Bouchee on a pop foul to end the game.

Groat's homer was the 16th given up by Roberts this season and tagged him with his seventh loss.

Both starting pitchers had rocky early innings but then settled into a tight pitching duel after rain delayed the game an hour and 18 minutes between the second and third innings.

Smoky Burgess doubled in the first Pirate run in the opening inning and the Phils tied it in their half on Joe Koppe's triple and a sacrifice fly. Three singles gave Pittsburgh another run in the second and the Phils tied it again in their half when Valmy Thomas singled home a run.

Burgess opened the third with his second double and then scored to put the Pirates ahead after the long rain delay but Freese hit his eighth homer in the fourth to make it a 3-3 game which lasted until Groat and Face won it in the ninth.

Lary Masters Athletics, 4-0

Tigers' Maxwell Hits 17th Homer

DETROIT (UPI) — Frank Lary fired a five-hitter Tuesday night to blank the Kansas City Athletics, 4-0, and post only the second shutout by a Detroit Tigers pitcher this season.

Lary struck out seven batters and didn't issue a base on balls. Only one Kansas City runner advanced beyond second base.

Charlie Maxwell provided Lary with the only run he needed for his ninth victory of the year against four defeats by lining his 17th home run of the season off Kansas City starter Rip Coleman in the first inning.

Coleman was charged with his seventh setback against two victories.

Lary permitted a single to Frank House in the second, a double to Jerry Lumpe in the third and a single to Bob Cerv in the fourth.

The Athletics threatened briefly in the ninth when Lumpe singled to right and Dick Williams beat out an infield hit. But Lary disposed of the next three batters to preserve his shutout.

Four Americans Qualify For British Open

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (UPI)—Willie Goggin of San Jose, Calif., and three other Americans qualified for the British Open golf championship Tuesday in a round of brilliant play led by defending champion Peter Thomson of Australia and Irish amateur Joe Carr.

Thomson, 29-year-old four-time winner, tied Muirfield's course with a six-under-par 32-34—66 to lead the 90 qualifiers with a 36-hole total of 137. Carr shattered all records for the nearby course at Gullane with 31-33—64 for a second place tie at 138.

Goggin, 53-year-old driving range operator who won the world seniors championship last Friday, made the qualifying list comfortably with a two-day total of 70-72—142. Three others—pro Bob Watson of Ardsley-on-Hudson, N.Y., amateurs Bob Sweeny of Palm Beach, Fla., and John Garrett of Houston, Tex., just squeezed in at the "cut" maximum of 147, lowest qualifying score in tournament history.

Eight other Americans failed to survive in the group of 81 pros and nine amateurs that sets out with a clean slate Wednesday for the 72-hole championship proper.

Jowle Ties Coles

Frank Jowle of England, co-leader after the first round with a 67, put together a 71 Tuesday for a second place tie at 138 with Carr and 24-year-old Neil Coles, a professional who tried the American circuit with little success last year.

He claimed that fullback Brown is "a person of violence and vicious character and possesses an uncontrollable temper."

Listed as co-defendants were the Cleveland Browns and the Pepsi-Cola Co., Jim Brown's employer at the time of the alleged incident.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The foul ball that bounced off his cheekbone Monday night could have been worse, Orlando Cepeda said.

"I was lucky," the San Francisco first baseman concluded Tuesday, "that it didn't hit me in some other place—in the jaw, mouth or the eyes."

Cepeda made the comment after X-rays showed he was only bruised and no bones were broken.

Could Be Worse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The foul ball that bounced off his cheekbone Monday night could have been worse, Orlando Cepeda said.

"I was lucky," the San Francisco first baseman concluded Tuesday, "that it didn't hit me in some other place—in the jaw, mouth or the eyes."

Cepeda made the comment after X-rays showed he was only bruised and no bones were broken.

Elroy Face Named To N. L. All-Star Team Pitching Staff

Bucs' Relief Ace Is Among Seven Hurlers

Alternates Include Mazeroski, Musial, Groat And Burgess

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Elroy Face, unbeaten relief ace of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Milwaukee stars Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette were named Tuesday to to the National League all - star team's pitching staff by Braves manager Fred Haney.

Haney, who will lead the N.L. stars against the American League at Pittsburgh, July 7, also picked Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Johnny Antonelli of the San Francisco Giants, Vinegar Bend Mizell of the St. Louis Cardinals and Gene Conley of the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Milwaukee manager, in filling out the rest of the team whose starters were selected in a poll of the players, stuck very closely to the voting except in two cases. He chose Stan Musial, fading 38-year-old Cardinal star, to appear in his 16th game despite the fact he had received a mere three votes from the players. And he picked Pittsburgh's Dick Groat as the alternate shortstop although Roy McMillan of the Cincinnati Reds received more votes.

Conley Selection Surprises

Haney's selection of Conley also was a surprise. The 6-foot, 8-inch right-hander was traded by the Braves when he refused to report to spring training until he finished the National Basketball Association campaign with the Boston Celtics. He has a 5-4 record this year compared to an 0-6 slate with the Braves last season. Another factor is that no other member of the Phillies was a serous candidate for the team—and every team in the league must have at least one player on the squad.

The N.L. starting team, as picked by the players, is catcher Del Crandall, first-baseman Orlando Cepeda, second - baseman Johnny Temple, shortstop Ernie Banks, third-baseman Ed Mathews and outfielders Wally Moon, Willie Mays and Hank Aaron.

The alternates, added by Haney, are catchers Smokey Burgess and Hal Smith, infielders Ken Boyer, Dick Groat, Bill Mazeroski, Frank Robinson and Musial, and outfielders Joe Cunningham, Vada Pinson and Bill White. The coaches will be manager Eddie Sawyer of the Phillies and manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pirates.

Newcombe Passed Over

The seven-man pitching staff, composed of three left-handers and four right-handers, has a combined mark of 66 victories and 30 losses this year. Antonelli stands 11-4, Burdette 11-6, Spahn 10-8, Conley 5-4, Drysdale 8-5, Mizell 9-5 and Face 12-0. Face also has a string of 17 consecutive victories—all in relief—dating back to last season.

Perhaps the most notable pitcher left off the team is the Reds' Don Newcombe who has won his last seven games and has an 8-4 record. Newcombe has appeared in four All-Star games — the most recent in 1955 when he was en route to a 20-5 season for the Dodgers.

Bill Henry of the Cubs and Bob Porterfield of the Pirates are the squad's batting practice pitchers, Sam Narron of the Pirates is the batting practice catcher and Dr. Robert Feron of Milwaukee will be the trainer. Clubhouse, secretarial and field assistants will be supplied by the Pirates.

Columbia Street And Ridgeley Win In Little League

Columbia Street's Wildcats defeated Corriganville, 9-5, and Ridgeley walloped Mount Royal, 15-1, in games played yesterday in the Maryland-West Virginia Little Baseball League.

"Ricky" Lynch scattered six hits as the Wildcats triumph over Corriganville which suffered its fourth loss against a single victory. Columbia Street owns a 3-2 record.

A five-run rally, punctuated by Ronnie Snyder's two-run homer, enabled the Wildcats to pull the game out of the fire in the fifth frame. Columbia Street collected 7 of its 13 hits in the big fifth.

Donnie McFarland yielded only one hit, a single by Kyhos in the 4th inning, and mowed down 14 via the strikeout route as Ridgeley (3-2) trounced Mt. Royal.

Jackson Hurls Cards To 4-1 Win Over Cubs

Yields Only One Hit In Last Six Innings

CHICAGO (UPI) — Larry Jackson held the Chicago Cubs to one scratch single in the last six innings Tuesday to hurl the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-1 triumph and nullify a protest by manager Solly Hemus of the Cards on a weird play involving Stan Musial in the third inning.

The rhubarb began when Musial walked on a pitch by Bob Anderson, which first struck catcher Sammy Taylor and then Plate Umpire Vic Delmore before it rolled to the backstop. Musial reached first and then broke for second as third baseman Alvin Dark ran after the ball.

Cardinal batboy Bob Schoenfelt, however, was first to get to the ball. Thinking it a foul, he picked it up and tossed it to field announcer Pat Piper. Piper then turned to see Dark charging down on him. He dropped the ball and Dark picked it up.

Two Balls In Play

Meanwhile, plate umpire Vic Delmore handed Taylor another baseball and both Dark and Taylor threw to second to try to catch Musial. Musial reached second safely as Taylor's throw went into center field but shortstop Ernie Banks caught Dark's throw and ran in to tag out Musial who had started for third.

Hemus and manager Bob Scheffing of the Cubs both argued on the play but the umpires ruled that the ball Dark threw was in play.

The Cardinal protest was based on interference and also because two balls were in play.

Steal Six Bases

St. Louis stole six bases and also was helped by inept fielding by the Cubs. Bill White's double and Ken Boyer's single scored a run in the first and a single, an infield out and a single produced another in the second.

In the seventh, a single, a stolen base and a single got a third run and in the eighth White singled, stole both second and third, and scored the last run on an error.

Sawyer, Stitch Fight Tonight At Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Welterweight Rudy Sawyer of New York declared himself in top shape Tuesday for his Wednesday night television bout with Rudell Stitch, ranked by the NBA as the No. 2 welterweight contender.

It's a crucial bout for Sawyer, who has won 18 of his 21 starts but has had difficulty finding top-ranking opponents and lost his last time out to Kid Paret, although the decision at St. Nick's in New York June 1 was widely disputed.

Trained by former featherweight champ Sandy Saddler, Sawyer has boxed more than 40 rounds to get ready for this go against Louisville's home town hero.

Stitch, now ranked No. 2 by the NBA and No. 2 in the Ring ratings, will be after his 21st victory in 26 starts as a pro.

Free Gate Brings Out 38,895 Fans At Suffolk Downs

BOSTON, June 30 (AP) — A crowd of 38,895, fourth largest in the history of Suffolk Downs, turned out this humid afternoon to celebrate the track's 25th birthday party. In addition to a free gate, the patrons had chances on five autos raffled through the afternoon.

The feature was won by R. Lancaster's Senegalese who ran down J. A. Privette's Pacemaking Kings Market and won by three and a half lengths. Third in the field of seven was the Kenmore Stable's Cheltenham.

Senegalese, winning his second in as many races this season, is a chestnut daughter of Olympia. She paid $22.20, $10. and $4.60. Kings Market returned $11.80 and $4.80, while Cheltenham paid $3.40 for show.

The time of the race was 1.12 over a fast track.

The daily double combination of Collision and Hill Baron paid $94.60.

Finnish Pole Vaulter Beats Bob Gutowski

Cantello Finishes Third In Javelin

HELSINKI, Finland (UPI) — Two American world record-holders suffered unexpected setbacks Tuesday night during the concluding program of a two-day international track and field meet at the Olympic Stadium.

European champion Eeles Landstroem of Finland outclassed Bob Gutowski of La Jolla, Calif., in the pole vault with a winning leap of 14 feet, 9¼ inches. Gutowski finished second with a vault of 14 feet, 5⅛ inches — more than 15 inches under his accepted world mark of 15 feet, 8¼ inches.

In the javelin event, Michael Macquet of France won with a toss of 256 feet, 8¼ inches. Al Cantello of the U.S. Marines, who holds the world record of 282 feet, 3½ inches, finished a disappointing third with a toss of 240 feet, 5½ inches.

Gutowski was especially bitter about his defeat in the pole vault.

"This has been a bad year for me thus far," the Californian declared. "I haven't been able to follow my training program."

U.S. athletes still managed to win four of the final nine events before nearly 30,000 spectators, giving them a record of nine victories during the two - day, 18-event program.

The U.S. winners Tuesday were Charles Butt of Los Angeles in the shot put (57 feet, 7⅞ inches), Deloss Dodds of Kansas City University in the 400 - meters event (47.2 seconds), Dave Parker of Brigham Young University in the 110-meter low hurdles (15.0 seconds), and Bob Poynter of San Jose State in the 100-meter dash (10.8 seconds).

Gerhardus Potgieter of South Africa, who equalled the stadium record in winning the 400-meter hurdles Monday, was named the outstanding athlete of the meet.

Newcombe Has Strained Groin

CINCINNATI (AP) — Big Don Newcombe, currently the Cincinnati Reds' best pitcher and pinch hitter, is a minor casualty, Manager Mayo Smith said Tuesday.

The big fellow, who has won 8 games and lost 4, and who is batting .352, has a strained groin, Smith said. The manager said however, he expects Newcombe to be ready in a day or two to take his regular turn on the mound.

The tail of the jumping mouse is six inches long, about two-thirds of the total length of the animal.

Sally Moore, Darlene Hard Win Matches

Reach Semi-Final Round In England

By TOM OCHILTREE
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Sally Moore and Darlene Hard won their way into the women's singles semifinals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships Tuesday, keeping alive the hope that the United States can maintain the grip on the women's title it has held since 1938.

Maria Bueno of Brazil and Sandra Reynolds of South Africa also advanced with victories as sparkling as those turned in by the two California girls.

Miss Moore, 18, scored a 6-3, 6-2 victory over Yola Ramirez of Mexico.

Miss Bueno defeated Romanian-born Edda Buding 6-3, 6-3.

Miss Reynolds defeated Angela Mortimer of Britain 7-5, 8-6.

An all-American final remains a possibility, since Miss Hard, seeded fourth, will meet Miss Reynolds, No. 5, and Miss Moore, No. 7, will play Miss Bueno, No. 6, in the semifinals Thursday.

The men's semifinals will be run off Wednesday with Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, going against Rod Laver of Australia and top-seeded Alex Olmedo of Peru and Los Angeles opposing Roy Emerson of Australia.

Elroy Face Named To N. L. All-Star Team Pitching Staff

Bucs' Relief Ace Is Among Seven Hurlers

Alternates Include Mazeroski, Musial, Groat And Burgess

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Elroy Face, unbeaten relief ace of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Milwaukee stars Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette were named Tuesday to to the National League all - star team's pitching staff by Braves manager Fred Haney.

Haney, who will lead the N.L. stars against the American League at Pittsburgh, July 7, also picked Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Johnny Antonelli of the San Francisco Giants, Vinegar Bend Mizell of the St. Louis Cardinals and Gene Conley of the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Milwaukee manager, in filling out the rest of the team whose starters were selected in a poll of the players, stuck very closely to the voting except in two cases. He chose Stan Musial, fading 38-year-old Cardinal star, to appear in his 16th game despite the fact he had received a mere three votes from the players. And he picked Pittsburgh's Dick Groat as the alternate shortstop although Roy McMillan of the Cincinnati Reds received more votes.

Conley Selection Surprises

Haney's selection of Conley also was a surprise. The 6-foot, 8-inch right-hander was traded by the Braves when he refused to report to spring training until he finished the National Basketball Association campaign with the Boston Celtics. He has a 5-4 record this year compared to an 0-6 slate with the Braves last season. Another factor is that no other member of the Phillies was a serous candidate for the team—and every team in the league must have at least one player on the squad.

The N.L. starting team, as picked by the players, is catcher Del Crandall, first-baseman Orlando Cepeda, second - baseman Johnny Temple, shortstop Ernie Banks, third-baseman Ed Mathews and outfielders Wally Moon, Willie Mays and Hank Aaron.

The alternates, added by Haney, are catchers Smokey Burgess and Hal Smith, infielders Ken Boyer, Dick Groat, Bill Mazeroski, Frank Robinson and Musial, and outfielders Joe Cunningham, Vada Pinson and Bill White. The coaches will be manager Eddie Sawyer of the Phillies and manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pirates.

Newcombe Passed Over

The seven-man pitching staff, composed of three left-handers and four right-handers, has a combined mark of 66 victories and 30 losses this year. Antonelli stands 11-4, Burdette 11-6, Spahn 10-8, Conley 5-4, Drysdale 8-5, Mizell 9-5 and Face 12-0. Face also has a string of 17 consecutive victories—all in relief—dating back to last season.

Perhaps the most notable pitcher left off the team is the Reds' Don Newcombe who has won his last seven games and has an 8-4 record. Newcombe has appeared in four All-Star games — the most recent in 1955 when he was en route to a 20-5 season for the Dodgers.

Bill Henry of the Cubs and Bob Porterfield of the Pirates are the squad's batting practice pitchers. Sam Narron of the Pirates is the batting practice catcher and Dr. Robert Feron of Milwaukee will be the trainer. Clubhouse, secretarial and field assistants will be supplied by the Pirates.

Jackson Hurls Cards To 4-1 Win Over Cubs

Yields Only One Hit In Last Six Innings

CHICAGO (UPI) — Larry Jackson held the Chicago Cubs to one scratch single in the last six innings Tuesday to hurl the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-1 triumph and nullify a protest by manager Solly Hemus of the Cards on a weird play involving Stan Musial in the third inning.

The rhubarb began when Musial walked on a pitch by Bob Anderson, which first struck catcher Sammy Taylor and then Plate Umpire Vic Delmore before it rolled to the backstop. Musial reached first and then broke for second as third baseman Alvin Dark ran after the ball.

Cardinal batboy Bob Schoenfelt, however, was first to get to the ball. Thinking it a foul, he picked it up and tossed it to field announcer Pat Piper. Piper then turned to see Dark charging down on him. He dropped the ball and Dark picked it up.

Two Balls In Play

Meanwhile, plate umpire Vic Delmore handed Taylor another baseball and both Dark and Taylor threw to second to try to catch Musial. Musial reached second safely as Taylor's throw went into center field but shortstop Ernie Banks caught Dark's throw and ran in to tag out Musial who had started for third.

Hemus and manager Bob Scheffing of the Cubs both argued on the play but the umpires ruled that the ball Dark threw was in play.

The Cardinal protest was based on interference and also because two balls were in play.

Steal Six Bases

St. Louis stole six bases and also was helped by inept fielding by the Cubs. Bill White's double and Ken Boyer's single scored a run in the first and a single, an infield out and a single produced another in the second.

In the seventh, a single, a stolen base and a single got a third run and in the eighth White singled, stole both second and third, and scored the last run on an error.

Sawyer, Stitch Fight Tonight At Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Welterweight Rudy Sawyer of New York declared himself in top shape Tuesday for his Wednesday night television bout with Rudell Stitch, ranked by the NBA as the No. 2 welterweight contender.

It's a crucial bout for Sawyer, who has won 18 of his 21 starts but has had difficulty finding top-ranking opponents and lost his last time out to Kid Paret, although the decision at St. Nick's in New York June 1 was widely disputed.

Trained by former featherweight champ Sandy Saddler, Sawyer has boxed more than 40 rounds to get ready for this go against Louisville's home town hero.

Stitch, now ranked No. 2 by the NBA and No. 2 in the Ring ratings, will be after his 21st victory in 26 starts as a pro.

Free Gate Brings Out 38,895 Fans At Suffolk Downs

BOSTON, June 30 (AP) — A crowd of 38,895, fourth largest in the history of Suffolk Downs, turned out this humid afternoon to celebrate the track's 25th birthday party. In addition to a free gate, the patrons had chances on five autos raffled through the afternoon.

The feature was won by R. Lancaster's Senegalese who ran down J. A. Privette's Pacemaking Kings Market and won by three and a half lengths. Third in the field of seven was the Kenmore Stable's Cheltenham.

Senegalese, winning his second in as many races this season, is a chestnut daughter of Olympia. She paid $22.20, $10, and $4.60. Kings Market returned $11.80 and $4.80, while Cheltenham paid $3.40 for show.

The time of the race was 1.12 over a fast track.

The daily double combination of Collision and Hill Baron paid $94.60.

Finnish Pole Vaulter Beats Bob Gutowski

Cantello Finishes Third In Javelin

HELSINKI, Finland (UPI) — Two American world record-holders suffered unexpected setbacks Tuesday night during the concluding program of a two-day international track and field meet at the Olympic Stadium.

European champion Eeles Landstroem of Finland outclassed Bob Gutowski of La Jolla, Calif., in the pole vault with a winning leap of 14 feet, 9¼ inches. Gutowski finished second with a vault of 14 feet, 5⅛ inches — more than 15 inches under his accepted world mark of 15 feet, 8¼ inches.

In the javelin event, Michael Macquet of France won with a toss of 256 feet, 8¼ inches. Al Cantello of the U.S. Marines, who holds the world record of 282 feet, 3½ inches, finished a disappointing third with a toss of 240 feet, 5½ inches.

Gutowski was especially bitter about his defeat in the pole vault.

"This has been a bad year for me thus far," the Californian declared. "I haven't been able to follow my training program."

U.S. athletes still managed to win four of the final nine events before nearly 30,000 spectators, giving them a record of nine victories during the two - day, 18-event program.

The U.S. winners Tuesday were Charles Butt of Los Angeles in the shot put (57 feet, 7⅞ inches), Deloss Dodds of Kansas City University in the 400 - meters event (47.2 seconds), Dave Parker of Brigham Young University in the 110-meter low hurdles (15.0 seconds), and Bob Poynter of San Jose State in the 100-meter dash (10.8 seconds).

Gerhardus Potgieter of South Africa, who equalled the stadium record in winning the 400-meter hurdles Monday, was named the outstanding athlete of the meet.

Newcombe Has Strained Groin

CINCINNATI (AP) — Big Don Newcombe, currently the Cincinnati Reds' best pitcher and pinch hitter, is a minor casualty, Manager Mayo Smith said Tuesday.

The big fellow, who has won 8 games and lost 4, and who is batting .352, has a strained groin, Smith said. The manager said however, he expects Newcombe to be ready in a day or two to take his regular turn on the mound.

The tail of the jumping mouse is six inches long, about two-thirds of the total length of the animal.

Sally Moore, Darlene Hard Win Matches

Reach Semi-Final Round In England

By TOM OCHILTREE
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Sally Moore and Darlene Hard won their way into the women's singles semifinals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships Tuesday, keeping alive the hope that the United States can maintain the grip on the women's title it has held since 1938.

Maria Bueno of Brazil and Sandra Reynolds of South Africa also advanced with victories as sparkling as those turned in by the two California girls.

Miss Moore, 18, scored a 6-3, 6-2 victory over Yola Ramirez of Mexico.

Miss Hard, a Wimbledon finalist two years ago, barely got by Ann Haydon, a left-handed English girl. The score was 1-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Miss Bueno defeated Romanian-born Edda Buding 6-3, 6-3.

Miss Reynolds defeated Angela Mortimer of Britain 7-5, 8-6.

An all-American final remains a possibility, since Miss Hard, seeded fourth, will meet Miss Reynolds, No. 5, and Miss Moore, No. 7, will play Miss Bueno, No. 6, in the semifinals Thursday.

The men's semifinals will be run off Wednesday with Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, going against Rod Laver of Australia and top-seeded Alex Olmedo of Peru and Los Angeles opposing Roy Emerson of Australia.

Plan To Force Public Vote On Racing Bill Abandoned

Opponents Announce Surrender

Tawes Is Pleased, 5-Man Commission Will Take Office

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A group seeking to force a public vote on a bill reorganizing Maryland's State Racing Commission Tuesday abandoned its fight.

Del. Charles McC. Mathias (R-Frederick), a leader of the move, called the Secretary of State's office late in the day to say he would not be in with additional signatures required on petitions to place the bill on the 1960 general election ballot.

Chester Tucker, administrative assistant, said Mathias told him some 500 additional signatures obtained were of questionable legal form and he did not want to risk a law suit challenging them.

Needed 4,632 Signers

The group on May 29 had presented 5,368 signatures of registered voters on a petition calling for a referendum on the reorganization bill and needed 4,632 more by today.

Abandonment of the move means a new five-member Racing Commission created by the 1959 Legislature can take office immediately, replacing the three-member agency which has been in charge of Maryland horse racing.

The new commission was to have taken office June 1 but was delayed by the initial filing of signatures opposing the reorganization bill.

Gov. Tawes said he was pleased to hear the project was being abandoned.

"It was a wise decision in my opinion," Tawes said. "I am convinced that the best interests of racing and the state will be served by this reorganization."

Tawes signed the reorganization bill into law only after a rare public hearing at his office.

Tracks Opposed It

It was branded in the General Assembly as a "Ripper bill" aimed at removing the present three-member racing commission and officials of every major track in the state except Ocean Downs Raceway opposed it at a legislative hearing.

Tawes surprised some observers by naming two of the present commission, Albert Shugar and E. Taylor Chewning, to the new commission. The third, Chairman D. Eldred Rinehart who is also state Republican chairman, went out of office Tuesday under regular expiration of his term. A June 1 reorganization would have removed him one month early.

The governor appointed R.Bruce Livie of Baltimore as the new chairman. He also named Carle A. Jackson and Frank Cuccia, Baltimore Democrats, to the commission but Cuccia recently declined the appointment to accept a post in the administration of new Baltimore Mayor Harold Grady. Tawes has not named his successor.

Explains Surrender

Mathias, in explaining his committee's surrender, said a review of the signatures indicated they would lead to a prolonged court dispute over their validity.

"It is the feeling of those members of the petition committee who could be consulted that a bitter court fight would not be in the best interest of Maryland racing," Mathias stated. "Subsequent to the initiation of the petition drive, the public was assured of some continuity of the membership of the commission.

"After careful analysis of all the factors, it has been determined not to file the remainder of the signatures needed to complete the petition."

Plan To Force Public Vote On Racing Bill Abandoned

Opponents Announce Surrender

Tawes Is Pleased, 5-Man Commission Will Take Office

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A group seeking to force a public vote on a bill reorganizing Maryland's State Racing Commission Tuesday abandoned its fight.

Del. Charles McC. Mathias (R-Frederick), a leader of the move, called the Secretary of State's office late in the day to say he would not be in with additional signatures required on petitions to place the bill on the 1960 general election ballot.

Chester Tucker, administrative assistant, said Mathias told him some 500 additional signatures obtained were of questionable legal form and he did not want to risk a law suit challenging them.

Needed 4,632 Signers

The group on May 29 had presented 5,368 signatures of registered voters on a petition calling for a referendum on the reorganization bill and needed 4,632 more by today.

Abandonment of the move means a new five-member Racing Commission created by the 1959 Legislature can take office immediately, replacing the three-member agency which has been in charge of Maryland horse racing.

The new commission was to have taken office June 1 but was delayed by the initial filing of signatures opposing the reorganization bill.

Gov. Tawes said he was pleased to hear the project was being abandoned.

"It was a wise decision in my opinion," Tawes said. "I am convinced that the best interests of racing and the state will be served by this reorganization."

Tawes signed the reorganization bill into law only after a rare public hearing at his office.

Tracks Opposed It

It was branded in the General Assembly as a "Ripper bill" aimed at removing the present three-member racing commission and officials of every major track in the state except Ocean Downs Raceway opposed it at a legislative hearing.

Tawes surprised some observers by naming two of the present commission, Albert Shugar and E. Taylor Chewning, to the new commission. The third, Chairman D. Eldred Rinehart who is also state Republican chairman, went out of office Tuesday under regular expiration of his term. A June 1 reorganization would have removed him one month early.

The governor appointed R.Bruce Livie of Baltimore as the new chairman. He also named Carle A. Jackson and Frank Cuccia, Baltimore Democrats, to the commission but Cuccia recently declined the appointment to accept a post in the administration of new Baltimore Mayor Harold Grady. Tawes has not named his successor.

Explains Surrender

Mathias, in explaining his committee's surrender, said a review of the signatures indicated they would lead to a prolonged court dispute over their validity.

"It is the feeling of those members of the petition committee who could be consulted that a bitter court fight would not be in the best interest of Maryland racing," Mathias stated. "Subsequent to the initiation of the petition drive, the public was assured of some continuity of the membership of the commission.

"After careful analysis of all the factors, it has been determined not to file the remainder of the signatures needed to complete the petition."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Unless something completely unexpected happens, you will soon hear that Lana Turner is to be starred in "Luanne Royal," described by Ross Hunter as a turbulent, exciting love story of a woman who falls in love with her doctor. It's written by George Zuckerman, author of "Written on the Wind".

Ross, who will produce "Luanne" for Universal - International, has put it right in Lana's hands, and since he gave her "Imitation of Life," which is one of the best things that has happened in her life, he's reasonably sure she'll accept his judgment in the story.

Paul Kohner, Lana's agent, also agrees with Ross that this story is perfect for her.

Glenn Ford regretfully (it says here) finds he will have to bow out of "Two for the Seesaw" with Elizabeth Taylor because his movie schedule is so tight he can't meet the fall starting date with Liz!

And he's not fooling about that tight schedule. Just completing "It Started with a Kiss" with Debbie Reynolds, he'll be teamed with her again in "Gazebo," then goes into "Cimarron."

All these have been announced but it is news that Glenn is teaming up his own company with Harold Hecht (formerly of Hecht-Hill-Lancaster) to make "A Matter of Conviction" for United Artists release. Following this Glenn makes that long delayed and disputed movie he owes Columbia on an old contract.

"Al Capone" with its astronomical boxoffice, has all the producers digging for more tales of the gangster era. The latest is the story of Ma Barker, a contemporary of Dillinger's, who took care of many of the underworld characters of that day.

Miriam Hopkins, who is all but set to play "Ma," arrived in town a few days ago and with her agent, Wynn Rocamora, is deep in negotiations with independent producer Bill Ferris, who will produce the Barker movie. Miriam plays "Look Homeward Angel" at the La Jolla Playhouse while she is in the West.

Last year our Hollywood Bowl had its most successful season, and after looking over the program that Wynn Rocamora has lined up, indications are this will be even a greater success. The

Union Barbershops To Be Open Today

All union barbershops in Cumberland will be open today, John L. McGeady, secretary of Cumberland Local 314, Barbers Union, announces.

The shops will be closed on Saturday in observance of the Fourth of July.

Cresaptown Man Gets 60-Day Term

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

Q. "For thirteen years I had trouble with a ganglion in my left wrist. One doctor advised surgery; another was against operation. Then all at once the ganglion was gone. What happened?"—C. M.

A. It would be hard to say why the ganglion just melted away but you were lucky. It isn't always so simple. Ganglion is a fairly common condition in which cyst-like growths form within the capsule of joints and in tendon sheaths. Surgical removal is often advised although there are cases in which this might not be so. Many ganglions vanish following injection of a cortisone-like drug.

Q. "I am 21 and have already developed prominent 'spider burst' veins on my legs. Is there anything to do for these unsightly blemishes? Is it a forerunner of varicose veins?" —Miss N. B.

A. Not much can be done. "Spider burst" veins are not the same as varicose veins. "Spider" veins are thread-like blood channels that run just beneath the skin surface and often spread out from a central pool or point. Occasionally, without any obvious injury, the veins rupture and produce a dark spot or bruise. The tiny veins are sometimes treated by injection but they almost always pop up somewhere else. So far as is known, nothing will prevent development of new crops of "spider burst" veins.

Q. Doctors sometime advise alcohol sponging to reduce fever. Can young children be sponged in this way?

A. Yes, but don't go too heavy on the alcohol. The usual method is to employ equal parts of water and rubbing alcohol. This is sponged on the skin and allowed to evaporate. Evaporation of the alcohol-water solution is what reduces body temperature.

Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Unless something completely unexpected happens, you will soon hear that Lana Turner is to be starred in "Luanne Royal," described by Ross Hunter as a turbulent, exciting love story of a woman who falls in love with her doctor. It's written by George Zuckerman, author of "Written on the Wind".

Ross, who will produce "Luanne" for Universal - International, has put it right in Lana's hands, and since he gave her "Imitation of Life," which is one of the best things that has happened in her life, he's reasonably sure she'll accept his judgment in the story.

Paul Kohner, Lana's agent, also agrees with Ross that this story is perfect for her.

Glenn Ford regretfully (it says here) finds he will have to bow out of "Two for the Seesaw" with Elizabeth Taylor because his movie schedule is so tight he can't meet the fall starting date with Liz!

And he's not fooling about that tight schedule. Just completing "It Started with a Kiss" with Debbie Reynolds, he'll be teamed with her again in "Gazebo," then goes into "Cimarron."

All these have been announced but it is news that Glenn is teaming up his own company with Harold Hecht (formerly of Hecht-Hill-Lancaster) to make "A Matter of Conviction" for United Artists release. Following this Glenn makes that long delayed and disputed movie he owes Columbia on an old contract.

"Al Capone" with its astronomical boxoffice, has all the producers digging for more tales of the gangster era. The latest is the story of Ma Barker, a contemporary of Dillinger's, who took care of many of the underworld characters of that day.

Miriam Hopkins, who is all but set to play "Ma," arrived in town a few days ago and with her agent, Wynn Rocamora, is deep in negotiations with independent producer Bill Ferris, who will produce the Barker movie. Miriam plays "Look Homeward Angel" at the La Jolla Playhouse while she is in the West.

Last year our Hollywood Bowl had its most successful season, and after looking over the program that Wynn Rocamora has lined up, indications are this will be even a greater success. The

Union Barbershops To Be Open Today

All union barbershops in Cumberland will be open today, John L. McGeady, secretary of Cumberland Local 314, Barbers Union, announces.

The shops will be closed on Saturday in observance of the Fourth of July.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

Q. "For thirteen years I had trouble with a ganglion in my left wrist. One doctor advised surgery; another was against operation. Then all at once the ganglion was gone. What happened?"—C. M.

A. It would be hard to say why the ganglion just melted away but you were lucky. It isn't always so simple. Ganglion is a fairly common condition in which cyst-like growths form within the capsule of joints and in tendon sheaths. Surgical removal is often advised although there are cases in which this might not be so. Many ganglions vanish following injection of a cortisone-like drug.

Q. "I am 21 and have already developed prominent 'spider burst' veins on my legs. Is there anything to do for these unsightly blemishes? Is it a forerunner of varicose veins?" —Miss N. B.

A. Not much can be done. "Spider burst" veins are not the same as varicose veins. "Spider" veins are thread-like blood channels that run just beneath the skin surface and often spread out from a central pool or point. Occasionally, without any obvious injury, the veins rupture and produce a dark spot or bruise. The tiny veins are sometimes treated by injection but they almost always pop up somewhere else. So far as is known, nothing will prevent development of new crops of "spider burst" veins.

Q. Doctors sometime advise alcohol sponging to reduce fever. Can young children be sponged in this way?

A. Yes, but don't go too heavy on the alcohol. The usual method is to employ equal parts of water and rubbing alcohol. This is sponged on the skin and allowed to evaporate. Evaporation of the alcohol-water solution is what reduces body temperature.

Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

In the matter of the adoption of Allen Taylor Ramsey, a minor and Tedford Eugene Ramsey, a minor, ex parte No. 187 Adoptions in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this suit is to declare Allen Taylor Ramsey, a minor, and Tedford Eugene Ramsey, a minor, to be the legally adopted children of Ray L. Foley, married. The Bill states that the said Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey were born to Peggy Jane Foley (formerly Ramsey), and her former husband, Allen Eugene Ramsey, Allen Taylor Ramsey being born on March 30, 1947, and Tedford Eugene Ramsey being born on January 21, 1949; that the said Peggy Jane Foley was divorced A Vinculo Matrimonii from Allen Eugene Ramsey by decree of January, 1955, and by said decree was given the custody of the two children, Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey; that since the re-marriage of their mother to Ray L. Foley, Petitioner, the said Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey have resided continuously with the Petitioner and his wife; that the present address of Allen Eugene Ramsey, natural father of the two children, is unknown to the Petitioner, his wife, or the two children, his last known address being Elizabeth, New Jersey.
It is thereupon this 19th day of June, 1959, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, that the Petitioner cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County once each week for four successive weeks before the 20th day of July, 1959, giving notice to the said Allen Eugene Ramsey of the object and substance of this Petition and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the 5th day of August, 1959, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

NEW TRANSPORT ANNOUNCED
SANTA MONICA, Calif. The airliner, conceived as the "work horse" of the jet era, will carry 68 passengers to cities now served by piston-powered DC-6 transports at speeds equal to the larger DC-8 jetliner now being delivered to major airlines.

bowl opens July 2 with Herbert Von Karajan conducting the orchestra, and the program is varied enough to suit all patrons. July 4 is Lerner-Loewe night featuring Jane Powell and Johnny Green; Gershwin night, July 18 with Andre Kostelanetz and Andre Previn; July 23 is opera night, and Dorothy Kirsten and Robert Merrill will sing.

More highlights — Jose Iturbi on Aug. 4; Cole Porter night Aug. 8, and Aug. 29 is Rodgers & Hammerstein night. Van Cliburn will have two special performances on Sept. 1 and 4, and Sept. 5 is Jimmy McHugh night with Anna Maria Alberghetti, Vic Damone and Buddy Bregman. Ella Fitzgerald, Mahalia Jackson, Nat "King" Cole, Dick Clark and many others are on this year's gala program.

Diane Varsi asked when Jerry Wald called her to ask if she would come back to Hollywood for "Return to Peyton Place"; "Why is Hollywood mad at me?" No one is mad at you, Diane. I think everyone feels sorry for you. She had exactly $10,000 when she left, and that won't last long without any added income.

Diane's enrolled in Bennington College for a course in literary appreciation during the summer. Jerry says he believes after a while she will return to Hollywood, but that the responsibility of stardom was thrust upon her young shoulders too quickly.

Since 20th hasn't a thing in the world for Jayne Mansfield, she'll be shipped back to London to do a picture for Terrence Young. Her last picture, "Sheriff of Fractured Jaw" was made in England. However, it's up to her, Lew Schreiber says, whether she wants to go to England or not.

But certainly Terrence can't use the title "Too Hot to Handle" as it already has been used in the good old U.S.A.

In the matter of the adoption of Allen Taylor Ramsey, a minor and Tedford Eugene Ramsey, a minor, ex parte No. 187 Adoptions in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this suit is to declare Allen Taylor Ramsey, a minor, and Tedford Eugene Ramsey, a minor, to be the legally adopted children of Ray L. Foley, married. The Bill states that the said Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey were born to Peggy Jane Foley (formerly Ramsey), and her former husband, Allen Eugene Ramsey, Allen Taylor Ramsey being born on March 30, 1947, and Tedford Eugene Ramsey being born on January 21, 1949; that the said Peggy Jane Foley was divorced A Vinculo Matrimonii from Allen Eugene Ramsey by decree of January, 1955, and by said decree was given the custody of the two children, Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey; that since the re-marriage of their mother to Ray L. Foley, Petitioner, the said Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey have resided continuously with the Petitioner and his wife; that the present address of Allen Eugene Ramsey, natural father of the two children, is unknown to the Petitioner, his wife, or the two children, his last known address being Elizabeth, New Jersey.
It is thereupon this 19th day of June, 1959, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, that the Petitioner cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County once each week for four successive weeks before the 20th day of July, 1959, giving notice to the said Allen Eugene Ramsey of the object and substance of this Petition and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the 5th day of August, 1959, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Hollywood

bowl opens July 2 with Herbert Von Karajan conducting the orchestra, and the program is varied enough to suit all patrons. July 4 is Lerner-Loewe night featuring Jane Powell and Johnny Green; Gershwin night, July 18 with Andre Kostelanetz and Andre Previn; July 23 is opera night, and Dorothy Kirsten and Robert Merrill will sing.

More highlights — Jose Iturbi on Aug. 4; Cole Porter night Aug. 8, and Aug. 29 is Rodgers & Hammerstein night. Van Cliburn will have two special performances on Sept. 1 and 4, and Sept. 5 is Jimmy McHugh night with Anna Maria Alberghetti, Vic Damone and Buddy Bregman. Ella Fitzgerald, Mahalia Jackson, Nat "King" Cole, Dick Clark and many others are on this year's gala program.

Diane Varsi asked when Jerry Wald called her to ask if she would come back to Hollywood for "Return to Peyton Place": "Why is Hollywood mad at me?" No one is mad at you, Diane. I think everyone feels sorry for you. She had exactly $10,000 when she left, and that won't last long without any added income.

Diane's enrolled in Bennington College for a course in literary appreciation during the summer. Jerry says he believes after a while she will return to

Industrials Again Retreat After Reaching New High

NEW YORK (UPI) — Industrial stocks, for the second session in a row, broke into new high ground but were unable to hold the gains against the pressure of profit-taking.

Trading picked up slightly to a 3,200,000-share total from Monday's 3,000,000 shares.

Electronics had some of the day's widest changes in either direction. Texas Instruments fell 7½ net and Ampex 4½, after scoring gains in early trading; Motorola rose 5¼, Minneapolis-Honeywell 3¼; Cutler-Hammer 2½, Daystrom 1⅞.

Oils showed losses running to 2¼ in Shell, around a point in Atlantic Refining, Standard of California and Texaco.

The motors were mixed. American fell 1⅛, in second place on the active list. Chrysler lost ½ point. General Motors gained ¾.

Industrials Again Retreat After Reaching New High

NEW YORK (UPI) — Industrial stocks, for the second session in a row, broke into new high ground but were unable to hold the gains against the pressure of profit-taking.

The industrials held a small gain in their average while rails dipped a bit. Utilities proved the chief features in the averages, rising 0.68 to 87.30 as Commonwealth Edison, Pacific Gas, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line, Philadelphia Electric rose close to a point each and Peoples Gas gained nearly 2 points.

Trading picked up slightly to a 3,200,000-share total from Monday's 3,000,000 shares.

Electronics had some of the day's widest changes in either direction. Texas Instruments fell 7½ net and Ampex 4½, after scoring gains in early trading; Motorola rose 5¼, Minneapolis-Honeywell 3¼; Cutler-Hammer 2½, Daystrom 1⅞.

Oils showed losses running to 2¼ in Shell, around a point in Atlantic Refining, Standard of California and Texaco.

The motors were mixed. American fell 1⅛, in second place on the active list. Chrysler lost ½ point. General Motors gained ¾.

Mercury At 99 In Worst Day Of Heat Wave

Rainfall Is Far Below Normal

Yesterday was the hottest day of the year in Cumberland, as the mercury hit 99 degrees, according to Robert G. Golden, weather observer in Constitution Park.

The record high yesterday surpassed the previous high of the year which was the 98-degree mark established Monday.

The Hot spell started Saturday when the temperature ranged in the mid-90s. Sunday, it reached 97 degrees, and Monday and yesterday's weather continued the upward trend.

101 Downtown

In downtown Cumberland yesterday, it was even hotter as the unofficial thermometer at the Times-News Building recorded 101 degrees at 3:30 p. m.

The weatherman has promised a slight break in the torrid spell today. A high pressure area was forecast to move into this area during the night and temperatures are expected to be in the high 80s or low 90s today.

Only 1.23 inches of rain fell here during June, according to Mr. Golden, who said it was the fourth driest June on his records.

The normal rainfall for June is 3.88 inches. Most of the rainfall recorded here last month was on the first two days of last month. Since that time, only traces of rain have fallen in the Cumberland area.

Normally, June is the wettest month of the year and has the highest average rainfall. Last year, 4.30 inches of precipitation was recorded, and in 1955, 7.27 inches was recorded here in June.

A Dry Year

With the exception of April, the rest of the months of this year have had below average rainfall. The normal amount of precipitation for the first half of the year is 17.98 inches, and only 14.39 has fallen here to date.

The Weather Bureau said a cool mass of air that could break the heat wave is hanging just north of Maryland, tantalizingly close. It said "there is a strong hope" it will move south by today.

Unlike Maryland, most of the northeastern part of the nation got relief from the heat Tuesday as temperatures dropped as much as 20 degrees from readings in the upper 90s.

The Eastern Shore was the hottest spot in Maryland, with 102 readings at Salisbury and Easton. It was in sharp contrast to Monday when the Shore was the coolest part of the state and Ocean City had a 77.

An alternate-day sprinkling ban was imposed in Baltimore City and surrounding areas of Anne Arundel and Baltimore counties, Montgomery and Prince Georges County residents in the Washington area also were asked to curb their use of water.

Trooper Garcia Is Suspended

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP)—State Police Superintendent Carey Jarman Tuesday suspended from duty Trooper 1.C. Harry J. Garcia, who was in the apartment of a Baltimore County woman when she committed suicide.

The suspension was ordered for the Cumberland Barracks trooper pending filing of charges with Russell E. Davis, state commissioner of personnel.

Mrs. Harrison, 30, shot herself last Friday in her Essex apartment.

Garcia, who was on leave, told police he arrived at her apartment about five minutes before the shooting. The trooper was released by Baltimore County police after questioning.

'Fresh Air Kids' Slated To Arrive Here July 9

Twenty-one children of Chinese descent who live in New York City are scheduled to arrive in Cumberland next week to spend a two-week vacation with local families.

Their stay here is being arranged by the Parent Teachers Association of SS. Peter and Paul parish in cooperation with the Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund, New York City.

Herman J. Grabenstein Jr., PTA president, said last night that the children are slated to arrive here Thursday. He said 13 families will "adopt" the youngsters for two weeks.

Two pamphlets, "So You Are Going To Be a Friendly Town Host," and "The Friendly Town Plan," as well as a memo sheet have been sent to the families by Mr. Grabenstein, who is being assisted by Thomas J. Cumiskey Jr. in the project.

Two of the youngsters have been in Cumberland before, and the 19 other youngsters will be newcomers to the Queen City. The children are selected from students of Kung Wah School of the Catholic Church of the Transfiguration, New York City.

The vacation plan here was inaugurated at the suggestion of Rev. John D. Moore, Maryknoll priest who is pastor of the church and a native of Cumberland.

The children, who will be guests of families in Cumberland, LaVale, Ridgeley and Cash Valley, will probably get together at the annual family picnic of SS. Peter and Paul parish on July 19 at Mt. Calvary Picnic Grounds.

Some of them will learn what it is like to live in the rural areas and become acquainted with farm animals. They will become friends with local youngsters their own age.

The Friendly Town program, Mr. Grabenstein said, is nearly a century old. Children sent to Friendly Towns are between the ages of five and 12 and many are underprivileged.

They are children whose families cannot afford even a brief vacation from hot city streets.

June Weddings Less Popular

Marriage licenses records tabulated at the Court House last month show that 266 licenses were issued. Last year some 330 licenses, or 104 more, were issued during June.

The overall figure for the first six months of 1959 also shows a lag from last year's figures. As of June 30 this year, some 1,249 licenses were issued. During the same month in 1958 a total of 1,275 licenses were issued at the Court House.

A month by month breakdown shows that this year 180 were issued in January, a similar number last year; 201 in February, 127 last year; 189 in March, 198 last year; 215 in April, 237 last year; 198 in May, 203 last year; 266 in June, 330 last year.

One possible reason for the decline in marriage licenses during June this year is that the Court House began closing on Saturdays the first of the month.

SRC To Build Radio Towers In Each County

Baltimore Firm Low Bidder Here

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission received low bids totaling about $37,300 Tuesday for construction of 23 radio towers for its new radio network.

SRC Chairman John B. Funk announced earlier that the network linking 27 base stations and 380 vehicles, scheduled to go into operation by December, is aimed at making manpower and equipment available to meet emergencies and handle maintenance problems more efficiently.

There will be one tower in each of the 23 counties. For bidding, the work was broken into three geographical contracts roughly corresponding to Western Maryland, Southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore.

The contracts call for construction of concrete foundations, erection, painting and attaching antenna and wiring to self-supporting masts. The SRC is furnishing the masts and antennas.

The commission said low bidders on the three projects, among 17 estimates received, were:

Evans Construction Co., Salisbury, $14,975, Caroline, Cecil, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Annes, Somerset, Talbot, Wicomico and Worcester.

Gale Construction Co., Galesville, Md., $13,620, Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Calvert, Charles, Harford, Montgomery, Prince Georges and St. Marys.

July Court Term Opens On Monday

Some 88 court cases have been placed on the trial docket of the July term of Allegany County Circuit Court which will begin on Monday.

The cases include condemnation suits brought by the Maryland State Roads Commission; appeal cases from Trial Magistrate's Court, Workmen's Compensation Commission and Maryland Department of Employment Security as well as cases removed here from another county.

The July term of court has always been a non-jury term, according to Clerk Joseph E. Boden, who said a law passed recently in the General Assembly has eliminated the grand jury for the January term of court. The grand jury will now meet twice a year in Allegany County, in April and October, he added.

Mercury At 99 In Worst Day Of Heat Wave

Rainfall Is Far Below Normal

Yesterday was the hottest day of the year in Cumberland, as the mercury hit 99 degrees, according to Robert G. Golden, weather observer in Constitution Park.

The record high yesterday surpassed the previous high of the year which was the 98-degree mark established Monday.

The Hot spell started Saturday when the temperature ranged in the mid-90s. Sunday, it reached 97 degrees, and Monday and yesterday's weather continued the upward trend.

101 Downtown

In downtown Cumberland yesterday, it was even hotter as the unofficial thermometer at the Times-News Building recorded 101 degrees at 3:30 p. m.

The weatherman has promised a slight break in the torrid spell today. A high pressure area was forecast to move into this area during the night and temperatures are expected to be in the high 80s or low 90s today.

Only 1.23 inches of rain fell here during June, according to Mr. Golden, who said it was the fourth driest June on his records.

The normal rainfall for June is 3.88 inches. Most of the rainfall recorded here last month was on the first two days of last month. Since that time, only traces of rain have fallen in the Cumberland area.

Normally, June is the wettest month of the year and has the highest average rainfall. Last year, 4.30 inches of precipitation was recorded, and in 1955, 7.27 inches was recorded here in June.

A Dry Year

With the exception of April, the rest of the months of this year have had below average rainfall. The normal amount of precipitation for the first half of the year is 17.98 inches, and only 14.39 has fallen here to date.

The Weather Bureau said a cool mass of air that could break the heat wave is hanging just north of Maryland, tantalizingly close. It said "there is a strong hope" it will move south by today.

Unlike Maryland, most of the northeastern part of the nation got relief from the heat Tuesday as temperatures dropped as much as 20 degrees from readings in the upper 90s.

Nine deaths in Baltimore during the past two days were attributed to the heat.

Baltimore's high for the day was 100. The same reading was recorded in Rockville, Waldorf, Towson and Frederick.

The Eastern Shore was the hottest spot in Maryland, with 102 readings at Salisbury and Easton. It was in sharp contrast to Monday when the Shore was the coolest part of the state and Ocean City had a 77.

An alternate-day sprinkling ban was imposed in Baltimore City and surrounding areas of Anne Arundel and Baltimore counties. Montgomery and Prince Georges County residents in the Washington area also were asked to curb their use of water.

SRC To Build Radio Towers In Each County

Baltimore Firm Low Bidder Here

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission received low bids totaling about $37,300 Tuesday for construction of 23 radio towers for its new radio network.

SRC Chairman John B. Funk announced earlier that the network linking 27 base stations and 380 vehicles, scheduled to go into operation by December, is aimed at making manpower and equipment available to meet emergencies and handle maintenance problems more efficiently.

There will be one tower in each of the 23 counties. For bidding, the work was broken into three geographical contracts roughly corresponding to Western Maryland, Southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore.

The contracts call for construction of concrete foundations, erection, painting and attaching antenna and wiring to self-supporting masts. The SRC is furnishing the masts and antennas.

The commission said low bidders on the three projects, among 17 estimates received, were:

Evans Construction Co., Salisbury, $14,975, Caroline, Cecil, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Annes, Somerset, Talbot, Wicomico and Worcester.

July Court Term Opens On Monday

Some 88 court cases have been placed on the trial docket of the July term of Allegany County Circuit Court which will begin on Monday.

The cases include condemnation suits brought by the Maryland State Roads Commission; appeal cases from Trial Magistrate's Court, Workmen's Compensation Commission and Maryland Department of Employment Security as well as cases removed here from another county.

The July term of court has always been a non-jury term, according to Clerk Joseph E. Boden, who said a law passed recently in the General Assembly has eliminated the grand jury for the January term of court. The grand jury will now meet twice a year in Allegany County, in April and October, he added.

With the elimination of the grand jury the county will save money required for summoning the jury members and paying them during the term of court.

June Weddings Less Popular

Dan Cupid with his bow and arrows was not quite as active in Allegany County this past month as he was during June of 1958.

Marriage licenses records tabulated at the Court House last month show that 266 licenses were issued. Last year some 330 licenses, or 104 more, were issued during June.

The overall figure for the first six months of 1959 also shows a lag from last year's figures. As of June 30 this year, some 1,249 licenses were issued. During the same month in 1958 a total of 1,275 licenses were issued at the Court House.

A month by month breakdown shows that this year 180 were issued in January, a similar number last year; 201 in February, 127 last year; 189 in March, 198 last year; 215 in April, 237 last year; 198 in May, 203 last year; 266 in June, 330 last year.

One possible reason for the decline in marriage licenses during June this year is that the Court House began closing on Saturdays the first of the month.

'Fresh Air Kids' Slated To Arrive Here July 9

Twenty-one children of Chinese descent who live in New York City are scheduled to arrive in Cumberland next week to spend a two-week vacation with local families.

Their stay here is being arranged by the Parent Teachers Association of SS. Peter and Paul parish in cooperation with the Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund, New York City.

Herman J. Grabenstein Jr., PTA president, said last night that the children are slated to arrive here Thursday. He said 13 families will "adopt" the youngsters for two weeks.

Two pamphlets, "So You Are Going To Be a Friendly Town Host," and "The Friendly Town Plan," as well as a memo sheet have been sent to the families by Mr. Grabenstein, who is being assisted by Thomas J. Cumiskey Jr. in the project.

Two of the youngsters have been in Cumberland before, and the 19 other youngsters will be newcomers to the Queen City. The children are selected from students of Kung Wah School of the Catholic Church of the Transfiguration, New York City.

The vacation plan here was inaugurated at the suggestion of Rev. John D. Moore, Maryknoll priest who is pastor of the church and a native of Cumberland.

The children, who will be guests of families in Cumberland, LaVale, Ridgeley and Cash Valley, will probably get together at the annual family picnic of SS. Peter and Paul parish on July 19 at Mt. Calvary Picnic Grounds.

Some of them will learn what it is like to live in the rural areas and become acquainted with farm animals. They will become friends with local youngsters their own age.

The Friendly Town program, Mr. Grabenstein said, is nearly a century old. Children sent to Friendly Towns are between the ages of five and 12 and many are underprivileged.

They are children whose families cannot afford even a brief vacation from hot city streets.
